Reorganization of New Orleans Police Force.

Removals by Military Commanders.

The New Orleans National Bank Failure.

Grant Indorses the Removal of Gov. Wells.

President to Call an Extra Session of Congress.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, June 13, 1867.

The New Orleans Police.

Advices received at General Grant's headquarters from New Orleans, show that General Sheridan has commenced the re-organization of the police force in that city, and he appointed several colored men as policemen.

New Orleans Removals.

The Intelligencer to-day, in confirming on authority the dispatches forwarded on Tuesday night, says that the Cabinet, at its meeting on that day decided that the military officers in command of the five districts into which the unrepresented States are divided, have no power to remove civil officers deriving their authority from the State government as now organized. The Intelligencer understands, however, that the question before the Cabinet had more immediate reference to the removal of the Governor and other civil officers of the State of Louisiana by General Sheridan, but of course will apply to the action of the other four commanders. The forthcoming opinion of the Attorney General, in accordance with the reasoning of which it is understood the decision referred to was arrived at, the same paper says, will fully justify the legality and propriety of this determination. It is added significantly by the Intelligencer that it need hardly be suggested the issuing of orders replacing the deposed officers, which may become necessary as a consequence of this decision of the Government, would be no good ground for application on the part of General Sheridan to be relieved from the position he holds, much less would it warrant the inference that the Administration contemplates or desires his removal for his errors.

The New Orleans Bank Failure.

By direction of the Comptroller of the Currency the Government receiver of the First National Bank at New Orleans has made a statement. In counting all the assets, good, bad and indifferent, they exceed the liabilities about fifty thousand dollars. The liabilities of the Directors as makers and indorsers of the bills and notes reach over three hundred and twenty thousand dollars as makers, and two hundred and sixty-nine thousand dollars as indorsers. He is confident that a large portion of this indebtedness will be arranged by the parties. Against other portions of it, there are credits to individual depositors to a large amount. The Receiver says that all debts collected by the Bank will be paid over to the United States Treasurer. The Comptroller of the Currency declares the dividends to creditors and they are paid from the Treasury, the Receiver having no such direction.

Grant's Indorsement.

The Chronicle to-day says that it knows that General Grant, no matter what his views are, on April 1st indorsed General Sheridan for his removal of Governor Wells.

Extra Session of Congress.

The President to-night stated in conversation, that the complications and differences arising under the reconstruction act were such that he was of the opinion that if Congress did not meet in July, that he should call an extra session on the first of August. This is authentic, being derived from an authoritative source.

The Surratt Trial.

But one juror was obtained to-day in the Surratt case, Wm. B. Todd, a retired merchant of this city. Every kind of excuse was rendered by the large number subpœnaed to-day, and most all got off on some plea.

Sanford Conover's Case.

A motion was made to-day to give Sanford Conover, who was convicted of perjury in giving evidence before the conspiracy trial, a new trial, on the ground that the jury which found him guilty had not been legally empannelled. The motion is founded on Judge Fisher's decision in the Surratt case. Conover's pending sentence is ten years in the Penitentiary, but he will now remain in jail until the Surratt trial is ended.

WASHINGTON, June 13.

THE CONOVER CASE.

Judge Lander to-day, in the Criminal Court, filed a motion to set aside and vacate judgment, and for a new trial in the case of Sanford Conover. Argument will be heard in about ten days. An order was issued to detain Conover in this city.

NO INTERRUPTION OF MAILS.

The Postoffice Department has no information whatever of interruption of mails in the districts of country in or near the scenes of alleged Indian hostilities.

REMOVAL OF CIVIL OFFICERS.

The National Intelligencer says: We have authority for the statement that at a very recent consultation of the Cabinet, it was decided the military officers in command of the five districts into which the ten unrepresented Southern States are divided, have no power to remove civil officers deriving their authority from State governments as now organized. The question, we understand, had more immediate reference to the removal of the Governor and other civil officers of the State of Louisiana by General Sheridan, but of course will apply to the action of the four other commanders. No doubt the forthcoming opinion of the Attorney General, in accordance with the reasoning of which it is understood the decision referred to was arrived at, will fully justify the legality and propriety of this determination. It scarcely need be suggested the issuing of orders replacing the deposed officers, which may become necessary as a consequence of this decision of the Government, would be no good ground for application on the part of General Sheridan to be relieved from the position he holds, much less would it warrant the inference that the Administration contemplates or desires his removal for his errors.

THE SURRATT TRIAL.

The trial of Surratt was resumed to-day. The talesmen ordered yesterday were called. Several were excused, and others summoned in their places finally. After recess the full number, twenty-six, was obtained. Mr. Bradley, while avowing readiness to proceed with the trial, filed a challenge of the present panel as not lawfully summoned, and asking it to be quashed. Counsel on both sides consented that the defense should strike from the talesmen ten, and the United States four, thus leaving twelve as the jury. Those selected were Wm. B. Todd, John R. Elavans, Thomas Blogdi, R. M. Hall, Thos. J. Percy, Wm. M. Shuster, Z. D. Gilman, Horatio N. Easty, Thomas Berry, Robert Ball, Samuel Fowler, and J. R. Barr. The gentlemen were requested to stand up and be sworn in. Several of the jury asked to be excused in consequence of having formed an opinion, and conscientious scruples concerning capital punishment. By order of the Court each man put his voir dire. Wm. B. Todd was examined and sworn as the first juror. Wm. Tenney stated he had formed and expressed an opinion, but thought he could give an honest verdict. He had no conscientious scruples about the death penalty. The Court ordered him to stand aside for the present, considering him exceptionable. J. R. Elavans made a similar statement, and was ordered aside. Thomas Blogdin had formed and expressed an opinion, and feared it might influence his judgment; ordered to stand aside. Rilley A. Shinn made a similar answer; ordered to stand aside. R. H. Hall had formed and expressed an opinion, and felt strongly prejudiced; ordered to stand aside. Thomas J. S. Perry had formed and expressed an opinion, but did not think it would influence his judgment; had conscientious scruples, however, about the death penalty; ordered to stand aside. Reuben B. Clark had formed and expressed an opinion, and thought it would influence his judgment; ordered to stand aside. John Van Reswick was not aware he had formed or expressed an opinion; had an undecided opinion as to the guilt or innocence.

Mr. Carrington asked, "have you an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the other conspirators?" Bradley and Merrick objected. Pierpont thought the inquiry proper, as the prisoner was indicted as conspiring with others to murder Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Merrick said it was exceedingly difficult to get a jury to pass upon the guilt or innocence of this prisoner—a prisoner who stood charged with the murder of President Lincoln; but if jurors were asked whether they had formed an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of other parties named in the indictment as co-conspirators, and a jury could not be obtained in this district, or in the United States, the inquiry of the United States Attorney was not pertinent.

Mr. Pierpont said if a juror came here and said these other conspirators were guilty, then guilt would attach to this party according to his opinion; if the juror thought the conspirators were innocent, and if he expressed that opinion, it was utterly impossible for him to say this prisoner was guilty. The answers were corrected. After further debate the subject went over till to-morrow. S. D. Gilman, Jos. F. Brown, Zeno C. Robbins, Gen. Joseph Gerhardt, Horatio N. Early, Thomas Perry, John H. Crane, and William M. Shuster had all formed and expressed an opinion and the first named opposed to the death penalty. They were all set aside. Robert Bell had not formed an opinion, and was sworn. Henry M. Knight, J. T. Ellis, Samuel Fowler, Terrence Drury, and Wm. A. Morrison, had all formed and expressed an opinion. J. Russell Barr was sworn as the next juror. Jedediah Gittings had formed and expressed an opinion. This was the last of the talesmen, and only three jurors had been selected. The Marshall was directed to summon one hundred talesmen for to-morrow. The disqualified talesmen were discharged. Adjourned.

THE GREEK MINISTER.

The Greek Minister visited Secretary Seward to-day. He will be presented to the President at an early day.

MEXICO.

Death of General Miramon.

CASTILLO AND MEJIA SHOT.

Maximilian's Proclamation a Forgery.

NEW ORLEANS, June 13.—The Picayune has the following: El Comercio, of Matamoras, of the 6th inst., gives the following extracts from a letter dated Monterey, June 2d: Miramon has died of fever, which attacked him after he was wounded at Queretaro. Castillo, Mejia and others have been shot.

According to a letter from a creditable person in San Luis, the most profound silence is preserved as to what will be done with Maximilian. The chief functionaries talk both ways. We have been told the City of Mexico was taken by the Liberals at the close of May.

El Mexicana, the Imperialist paper published at Brownsville, pronounces Maximilian's proclamation a forgery, and says it originated with burlesquing papers.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

The Tobacco Fair—Ohio Carries Off the First Prize—Reception to be given Senator Wade's Party.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—The Premium Tobacco Fair of E. B. Booth, came off at C. Pepper's warehouse to-day. The attendance was large, including representations from New York, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Illinois and Missouri. The first premium, a five hundred dollar watch, for bright manufacturing leaf, was awarded to F. B. Jackson, of Franklin County, Ohio. The second premium, a $150 French clock, for dry shipper, was awarded to Yancey L. Walton, of Randolph County, Missouri. The third premium, a $140 silver ice pitcher, for the best cutter, was awarded to Thomas C. Jackson, of Bracken county, Kentucky. The fourth premium a ninety dollar wine stand, with goblets, for the best prize hogshead, was awarded to William Martin, of Lincoln county, Missouri. The first prize tobacco was subsequently sold to William Vanhorn, of Chicago, for one hundred and seventy dollars per one hundred pounds. The second premium for fifteen dollars; the third premium for fifty dollars; the fourth premium for twenty dollars, and the remaining competing tobacco sold from seven to seventy dollars per one hundred pounds. The City Council and Merchants' Exchange have appointed a Joint Committee, who will meet Senator Wade's excursion party, twenty miles west of here tomorrow morning, and escort them to the city, where they will be appropriately entertained. The party will arrive at 10:30 A. M., to-morrow.

FROM BRAZIL.

The War Still Progressing—Revolution in Argentine Republic Ended—The Cholera Subsiding—Waterspout.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Brazilian mail steamer brings Rio Janeiro dates to May 28th. Advices from the seat of war, state that the bombarding is kept up, and new works were making. The Brazilian troops, under Baron DeHerval, crossed the Uruguay and were ready on April 14th to continue the march to the Upper Parana with 4,000 men and six cannon. Three thousand men and a flotilla are being equipped in Malta Grassa, for an attack on Paraguayan posts in that province.

The revolution in the Argentine Republic was ended. Montevideo is closed against vessels from Argentine ports, and communication forbidden throughout Uruguay.

The cholera is diminishing in the allied army, having made no extra ravages, though an anonymous telegram from Buenos Ayres says 2,700 died in four days, among a small force at Caruzen, and the camps were moved in consequence. This is regarded as a stock jobbing canard. Cholera is still prevalent at Rosarie and San Nicholas, but has declined at Corrientes. About one hundred and seventy died in Buenos Ayres on the 22d of April, but the deaths since have greatly diminished.

The Brazilian Assembly was to be opened on May 15th.

The British Minister is negotiating a postal treaty with Brazil.

A Commissioner had been sent to Bahia to study the sugar cane disease and arrive at some practical result as to the fast increasing evil.

Sixty of the last American emigrants go to Espritu Santo, and others to San Paulo. Reports come that the crop is still good.

A waterspout at Cera caused the bursting open and fall of a high mountain, burying two houses and every person therein.

STEAMBOAT DISASTER.

Sinking of the Gov. Sharkey at St. Louis—Large Number of Persons Supposed to be Lost.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—The steamer Governor Sharkey left this port about two o'clock this morning, bound for Arkansas river, with a large cargo of freight and two hundred Government hands for Fort Gibson. The boat was overloaded, and as she swung from the levee began to sink. She was headed for the shore, and as her bow struck some twenty or more persons jumped ashore. She afterwards swung loose again and floated into the stream and sunk to the hurricane roof. Yawls from other boats took off the captain and crew and a large number of government hands. Many also swam ashore, but it is feared a large number were drowned. The boat's books and passenger list are lost, and it is probable the number of missing will never be known.

LATER.—The steamer, Governor Sharkey, sunk this morning, had two hundred and fifty tons of government freight, which will doubtless be a total loss. The boat floated down to near the arsenal, where she now lies, with only her pilot house above water. Her captain thinks that not more than four or five lives were lost. The boat was owned by Captain Turner, and valued at fifteen thousand dollars; insured for nine thousand—four hundred of which was in Cincinnati offices.

I intend being present at the dedication of the new Masonic temple in your city on the 24th inst., and during my short stay I will feel honored to accept the hospitalities of your city, receiving them with the reciprocation of the friendship and courtesy which prompted the Council in their offer.

With great respect, very truly, yours,
ANDREW JOHNSON.

Charles C. Dame, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge, also received a letter from the President, accepting the invitation of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts to be present at the dedication of the Masonic temple.

Incendiarism.

NEW ORLEANS, June 13.—An attempt was made to fire buildings on St. Charles street this morning but was frustrated. If it had been successful it would have destroyed several heavy business houses. The object was to swindle insurance companies.

Explosion of a Shell.

FORTRESS MONROE, June 13.—A shell taken from the rebel ram Merrimac, exploded yesterday at the Navy Yards, doing considerable damage, but injuring nobody.

Malfeasance in Office.

MOBILE, June 13.—Col. J. P. Foster, Collector of Customs, was arraigned before the United States Commissioner to-day, charged with malfeasance in office. Defendant was bailed in $5,000, and the case will be continued till the 27th.

New York Constitutional Convention.

ALBANY, June 13.—In the Constitutional Convention to-day, a motion to make a separate committee on canals was lost by a tie vote, after a lengthy debate.

AN EXPULSION.

Dr. Atkinson, Permanent Secretary, read a communication from the Lancaster County Medical Society, setting forth the expulsion of Dr. Franklin Hinkle, for advertising a secret nostrum for cure of cholera, in violation of sections three and four, of article 1, chapter 2 of the code of laws of the State Society.

Dr. J. T. Gallagher, of Allegheny moved that the paper be received and filed, and that Doctor Hinkles' name be stricken from the roll of the State Society. Carried.

Dr. Hinkle resides in Marietta, Lancaster county, and was elected a member of the State Society in 1865.

COMPLIMENT TO THE ALLEGHENY COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Dr. Stewart, of Erie, moved that the members of the Allegheny County Medical Society be invited to accept seats in the body of the hall. Carried.

INSTITUTIONS FOR THE INSANE.

Dr. John Curwin, Superintendent of the State Lunatic Asylum at Harrisburg, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a committee of five members of this society, including the President, be appointed to prepare a memorial to be presented at the next session of the Legislature, setting forth the number and condition of the insane of this Commonwealth, and the urgent necessity for more extended means for their proper care and treatment, and in order more effectually to carry out this purpose, this Society would very respectfully but most earnestly urge that the means be furnished for the early completion of the Western Pennsylvania Hospital for the insane poor of the Western District, and also that another Hospital for the insane of the district lying north of a line running east-west through the junction of the north and west branches of the Susquehanna river and east of the Allegheny Mountains, be commenced without delay. And they would also urge the commencement of a Hospital for the insane of the district lying south of the west branch of the Susquehanna, and between the western slope of the Allegheny Mountains and the Susquehanna river and the Blue Ridge, at the earliest practicable period, and that these Hospitals be built in strict conformity with the propositions for the construction of Hospitals for the insane adopted by the Association of Medical Superintendents of American Institutions for the Insane, in the year 1851 and 1852.

The resolution was adopted, and the President appointed the following gentlemen as the committee mentioned: Dr. Jas. King, Dr. T. Green, Dr. Geo. T. Horton, Dr. W. K. Findley, Dr. Jno. Curwin.

MEDICAL SOCIETY REPORTS.

The officers of several of the County Medical Societies, auxilliaries to the State Society, sent in their customary reports relative to the condition of their organizations, together with a variety of information on subjects specially interesting to the faculty. These reports were not read, but ordered on file to be printed in the Transactions of the State Society.

INDIVIDUAL COMMUNICATIONS.

Dr. Atkinson presented a communication from Dr. Perkins, of Erie, on the subject of "Hernia;" also, a communication from Dr. Hiram Foster on "Food for Infants." Also, a communication from Dr. Lee on "Spinal Diseases." These communications were referred to the Standing Committee on Essays, appointed by the State Society at its session in 1865, consisting of Doctors Mowrey, Green and King.

THE PRIZE ESSAY.

The prize of twenty-five dollars, which was offered last year for the best essay on some medical or surgical subject, was awarded by the Society to Dr. Jean Baptiste Imersperger. Subject: "The Transfusion of Blood; Infusion and Hypodermic Injections."

This prize essay covers a great number of closely written pages. It is written in the French language, with copious quotations from Italian, Latin, Greek, German and other authors, in their native language.

Dr. Charles S. Boker, of Philadelphia, suggested that the author of the essay should be consulted immediately in regard to the translation of his paper before it appeared in the Transactions. He deemed it a matter of courtesy to take this step.

Dr. Washington L. Atlee, of Philadelphia, thought the consent of the author should be obtained before the paper was translated.

Dr. Worthington was opposed to any such proceeding. He wanted it published in the English language for the benefit of the faculty throughout the State.

Dr. Boker did not wish the essay to be spoiled in the translation, and advanced this idea as another reason for first consulting with the author.

Dr. R. B. Mowrey, of Allegheny, preferred to see it published in English.

Dr. Wm. Marburry, of Philadelphia, believed that the society had no right to publish the essay in any other language that that in which it was originally written.

Dr. J. T. Gallagher, of Allegheny, thought it should be published in English, and that to insert it in the Transactions of the Society was the greatest honor that could be paid to the author.

Dr. Hiram Corson, of Montgomery, wanted to have it translated.

Dr. Andrew Nebinger, of Philadelphia, moved that the essay be printed in French and English. Carried.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Dr. William Marburry, of Philadelphia, Treasurer, reported the financial condition of the Society, which showed that there is now on hand in his possession $176 42.

Drs. Beaver, Wilson, and Crawford, were appointed an Auditing Committee.

NON-GRADUATES.

Dr. Atkinson offered a resolution that County Medical Societies may admit to membership non-graduate practitioners who were examined and passed by the State Board for service in the late armies of the United States. The resolution involved the principle of irregular practice, and after some debate was laid upon the table.

FEMALE PRACTITIONERS.

The subject of Female Practitioners was made the special order for three o'clock, P. M.

ALLOPATHY VS. HOMŒPATHY.

Dr. Stewart, of Erie, offered the following resolutions, which were received and read:

WHEREAS, It is alleged that the corporators of certain medical and surgical institutions endowed by this State, are about to give position and authority in the same to irregular practitioners, therefore,

Resolved, That the small amount of truth, stolen by Homœopathic and other irregular practitioners from the true science of medicine, is so mingled with a much greater amount of error, as to be, in our opinion, a great evil to the whole people; and that we cannot in any degree affiliate with or recognize such practitioners.

Resolved, That when an attempt is made by any institution endowed by the State, to put the treatment of the sick wholly or partially under the care of Homœopathy or other Quackery, we advise the regular practitioners of the State to use all their influence to induce the members of Assembly of their several counties, to vote for prohibiting so dangerous and mischievous a practice, and to refuse all assistance of the State to such institution while so conducted.

THE USE OF INTOXICATING LIQUORS AS A STIMULANT, ETC.

Dr. Hiram Corson, of Montgomery, offered the following preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, Of all the evils that afflict the human family, not one produces such wide-spread misery and disease; not one is so destructive of human life; not one is so fatal to the comort and peace of families as the use of intoxicating drinks; and,

WHEREAS, Nothing so greatly tends to endanger and foster an appetite for them as the recommendation of their use by physicians as medicines for disease, and still more as preventatives of disease; and,

WHEREAS, During the last few years many physicians have most recklessly prescribed wine, brandy, whisky, or the malt liquors, in nearly all cases which have come under their care; even to patients whose complaints were of the most trivial kind; and in thousands of cases, have thus fostered that fierce appetite for Rum which has driven them to degradation and death; and,

WHEREAS, Prof. Small has declared that "there is no case in which ardent spirits are indispensable, and for which there is not an adequate substitute," and Prof. John C. Warren, that "the reservation of the use of alcohol for cases of sickness appears to be of little consequence in a medical way;" and Prof. Nat. Chapman, that "it is the sacred duty of every one exercising the profession of Medicine, to unite with the moralist, the divine and the economist, in discouraging the consumption of those baneful articles, and as the first step in the scheme of reformation, to discountenance the baneful notion of their remedial efficacy; and that the evils of useing them are so great that the emptying of Pandora's box was but the type of what had been experienced by the diffusion of those liquors among the human species;" and

WHEREAS, Numerous medical men of high standing at the present time can bear like testimony, therefore

Resolved, That this Society in view of the noble efforts being made in every part of our State to abolish the use of intoxicating drinks, and thus save from untimely death the thousands of sons, brothers and fathers, who now speed like lightning down the road to ruin, calls on every member of the profession in our great commonwealth to raise his voice against the use in every case in which they are not demanded by the teachings of science, the lessons of experience, and the convictions of an enlightened conscience.

Resolved, That he who thoughtlessly recommends them, or prescribes them simply because it is the fashion to do so, should be awakened to a sense of the alarming fact that instead of being a blessing, he is a curse to the community in which he resides.

Dr. And. Nebinger, moved to lay the resolutions on the table. Lost.

Dr. Nebinger then called for the reading of the preamble and resolutions, which was ordered. At the conclusion of the reading Dr. Nebinger took the floor and vigorously opposed their adoption, characterizing them as wholly unnecessary and perfectly nonsensical. He declared himself a strict temperance man. Only a few days ago he officiated as a Vice President at a Temperance meeting held in the Academy of Music in Philadelphia. He mentioned this fact because he did not wish his position on these resolutions to be misconstrued. He was not prepared to indorse that part of the preamble which declares that the larger portion of the medical faculty have for years been fostering intemperance, and demorlizing the human family by a reckless system of prescribing intoxicating liquors as a stimulant for patients. He protested against any such charge as this. It was not true. It had no foundation in fact. To his certain knowledge the whole medical faculty of the State, en masse, denounced intemperance, and were laboring to circumscribe its effects. Their fiat on this subject had long gone forth to the wolrd. He did not care what Prof. Sewell said. Prof. Todd had said just the reverse thing, and to pass these resolutions was to make one right and the other wrong, when both were equally skilled in medical science. All the members of the Society had prescribed liquor as a stimulant, and were they prepared to say that in so doing they were not impelled "by the teachings of science, the lessons of experience and the convictions of an enlightened conscience."

The hour of half-past twelve having arrived, the Convention took a recess until three o'clock P. M.

Afternoon Session.

FEMALE MEDICAL PRACTITIONERS.

At the annual session of the Society in 1866, held at Wilkesbarre, Dr. H. Corson, of Montgomery, presented a petition from the Female Medical College of Pennsylvania, located in Philadelphia, requesting the society to repeal certain resolutions which were passed by it at its annual sessions in 1859 and '60, in reference to women practitioners in medicine. Dr. Corson offered at the same time a resolution rescinding the resolution referred to in the petition. The resolution to recind was attempted to be laid upon the table but was negatived. Dr. Mowrey, of Allegheny, at the session last year, offered the following resolution which was seconded:

Resolved, That the resolution of 1860 (previously discussed) is not intended to prevent the members of this Society from consulting with regularly educated female physicians who observe the Code of Ethics.

Owing to the lateness of the hour and the difficulty of taking the vote, in consequence of so many members being on the floor on other business, the question was not decided. On the following day, (June 14th,) Dr. Mowrey's resolution was called up, and Dr. Wm. Mayburry, of Philadelphia, offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Dr. Mowrey, and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the resolution offered by Dr. Mowrey be referred to the several county medical societies, with instructions to report thereon at the next meeting of this Society.

At the commencement of the session yesterday afternoon Dr. King, the President, notified the Society that the report of the county societies on Dr. Mowrey's resolution was now in order. The counties were called in their alphabetical order by the permanent Secretary, Dr. Atkinson. Some of the county societies had not taken any action at all; others had decided to leave the question to their accredited delegates to the State Society, to accept or reject according to their personal convictions on the subject, while others were unable to reach any decision, although they discussed the question in their meetings, and were favorable to female medical aid in certain cases. The Beaver County Medical Society instructed their delegates to support Dr. Mowrey's resolution; the Dauphin County Society resolved that in its judgment women cannot, consistent with their physiological constitution, become practitioners of medicine, and that they should not be encouraged by any recognition.

The Indiana Medical Society instructed their delegates to vote against Dr. Mowrey's resolution. The Berks County Society delegates were instructed to vote negatively on Dr. Mowrey's resolution. The Philadelphia County Society resolved that it could not offer any encouragement to women to practice medicine, nor could they consent to meet them in medical consultation. The Lycoming County Society sustained Dr. Mowrey. The Lancaster City and County Society instructed its delegates to vote against all resolutions recognizing females as members of the medical profession. The Montgomery County Society resolved that the State Society should admit to their halls every properly educated person, of good moral character, without regard to sex, ethnical peculiarities, or nationality. The result is that eleven Societies have voted to sustain Dr. Mowrey' resolution and five have rejected it; the delegates of two Societies were left to use their own discretion in voting on the resolution, and twelve Societies did not report any action at all. The reports were received and ordered on file. A motion was then made to indefinitely postpone the whole subject.

DR. ATLEE DEFENDS THE FEMALE PRACTITIONERS.

Dr. W. L. Atlee, of Philadelphia, took the floor and earnestly advocated the right of women to practice medicine, and laid down the proposition that it is the duty of the State Society to recognize and affiliate with them. He claimed that the position taken on the question by the Philadelphia County Medical Society was totally wrong and injurious. Women were not physiologically incompetent to perform the duties devolving upon the medical practitioner. He was willing to rest the case upon the single principle of human rights. He would never deny to any human being any right that he enjoyed. Woman was not incompetent in any sense. Physically and mentally she was fully able to the task. The Female College was established from necessity. Women had applied to the faculty of the male colleges for admission and were always rejected. They yearned for knowledge on this subject and were forced to establish a college of their own and accept such aid as they could get. In the Female College at Philadelphia, were two vacant chairs. The action of the State Society would greatly influence the selection of the persons who shall fill them, whether they shall be irregular practitioners, or in sympathy with our theory and practice, in medicine. The object of the State Society was to advance and elevate the science in which they are interested. How would they act in regard to the present question, and in view of their responsibility, all the arguments that had been advanced Against the right and competency of woman to practice medicine successfully, were fallacious. Everything proved the contrary opinion correct. Dr. Mayburry made the point of order that on a question to postpone, Dr. Atlee was out of order in discussing the merits of the question involved in Dr. Mowrey's resolution.

President King decided the point not well taken.

Dr. Atlee resumed and said that the Philadelphia Society, in their action, had ignored Dr. Mowrey's resolution. They made no allusion to it in their reported proceedings.

President King decided that their action was in strict conformity to the request of the State Society.

Dr. Haldeman moved to lay the whole subject on the table. A division was called and Dr. H.'s motion adopted. Ayes 55, nays 29.

ANOTHER PETITION FROM THE FEMALE MEDICAL COLLEGE.

Dr. Atlee then presented a petition from the Trustees of the Female College of Philadelphia, requesting the action of the State Society in 1859-60 in regard to female practioners, to be rescinded.

Dr. Nebinger moved to lay the petition on the table, and called for a division.

Dr. Atlee demanded the ayes and nays.

Dr. Worthington opposed the demand on the ground that it would consume too much time.

Dr. Atlee's demand was not granted.

The motion of Dr. Nebinger was carried—49 ayes to 33 nays.

Dr. Mayburry inquired what had now become of Dr. Mowrey's resolution. President King replied that it lay upon the table subject to the call of the house.

NEW STATE LAW PROPOSED.

Dr. McCannaughy reported a copy of an act passed by the Legislature, prohibiting any other than licensed druggists and graduated physicians from selling and practicing medicine in Lycoming county. FROM HAVANA.

Sale of the Ocean Home—Siege of Vera Cruz—Royal Decree Against the Slave Trade, &c., &c.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Havana dates to the 8th state that the Collector of Havana has ordered the sale of the bark Ocean Home on the first of July, to pay a fine of twelve thousand dollars.

The prize schooner Amelia, captured by the Mexican Imperial frigate of Yucatan, was ordered to leave Havana by the Captain General, and sailed on the 2d for Vera Cruz. It was rumored the Amelia had a British cargo, and that the English Consul requested an American gunboat to convoy her to Vera Cruz.

Dates from Vera Cruz are to the 4th. The city was closely besieged, and firing was regularly continued by the Liberals with heavy artillery. There was nothing from the interior. Campeachy was occupied by the Liberals on the first.

The Captain General has issued a proclamation, announcing his intention of rigidly enforcing the royal decree against the slave trade, and warns all the people of the Island against violation of said decree.

The health of Cuba is fair. The Spanish Admiral returned to Havana from Santa Martha, where he accomplished nothing, Mosquera evading all questions relative to the steamer Cuyler. The Cuyler, although denuded of her machinery, had hoisted sail and slipped out of port without the knowledge of the Spaniards.

It is reported a cargo of slaves were recently landed on the Cuban coast.

The Mexican Liberal Consul left Havana for the United States, the Captian General taking no notice of him.

FROM WYANDOTTE.

Senator Wade Refuses to Make a Speech—Horrible Butchery of Colored Men—They are Hung for Murder, and then Shot to Pieces—The Guilty Parties the Leaders of the Mob.

WYANDOTTE, KANSAS, June 13.—Senator Wade's party passed through here this evening, en route to St. Louis. A crowd surrounded the hotel and called upon Mr. Wade for a speech, which he refused to make. He said he would not speak in a city where Lynch law reigned and men were butchered without trial. He alluded to the colored men who were arrested last night, charged with murdering a farmer named McMann, a few days ago, lodged in jail, but taken out this morning by a large mob and hung up, but the rope broke, and they were shot to pieces in the Courthouse yard, where the bodies lay nearly all day. The Coroner's jury refused to take evidence, and simply gave a verdict of "hung by a mob." The evidence developed to-day indicates clearly that the men were innocent, and that the real murderers were the ring-leaders of the mob.

PRIZE RING.

Fight Between Collyer and Aaron.

Alderman McMullin, of Philadelphia, Referee.

Both Men Brutally Beaten.

Aaron the Winner of the Mill.

A Disgraceful Exhibition.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, June 13, 1867.

The assemblage of the fancy and the roughs, delegations of which from all parts of the country had been loafing in Washington for several days previous, in anticipation of the great prize fight, found relief for their anxiety last night, in the courteous manner in which the police force of the Nation's Capitol escorted them to the steamers in waiting, to convey them to the battlefield. It had been rumored that the police would interfere, and prevent the party from even starting, which would have effectually squashed the fight, for once on the sacred soil of Virginia, they were safe to do as they pleased, as there was no law in that chivalrous State to prevent prize fighting. Notwithstanding the rumors, however, omnibuses and carriages were rolling through the streets to the wharfs on the Potomac, where the steamers lay in waiting, from early evening until midnight, when the expedition sailed, and in front of the sporting headquarters, where Collyer's backers held forth, a crowd was assembled during the entire preceding day, publicly lauding the prowess of their favorite and making wagers. In fact there was no concealment, and every child in the city knew when, where and how the long talked of fight was to occur. The police were in full force at the levee, and as each carriage or omnibus delivered its freight of bruisers, or curious but foolish respectable men, they formed them into a line and marched them in single file to the gang plank of the steamers, even assisting them at times in buying tickets, making change, &c.

The principals of the fight were conveyed on board the Hi Livingston about 9 o'clock, and at midnight about one thousand passengers were also on board. Staterooms containing two oven-like berths each, were to be had, but they were seized by men heavy on the muscle, who threatened to mash the "gaffers" of the few real proprietors who had the temerity to demand their rights. Drinking, singing and swearing, with an occasional scrimmage, one of which lasted fifteen minutes, resulting in the loss of an optic by one of the combatants, formed the amusement with which the weary night was beguiled away. About one-half of the passengers attempted to sleep on the floors of the cabin and the decks, but a shower on both, of tobacco juice squirted promiscuously around, rendered such attempts anything but successful. The combatants were watched over in comfortable staterooms by their seconds, trainers and intimate friends, and slept soundly until day break, when the steamer reached the mouth of Aquia Creek.

The passengers were lightered off in small boats propelled by freedmen and reconstructed free white trash power, as the approach to the banks was too shoal to allow the boat to land. The scramble to get ashore and secure eligible seats on the shady side of the amphitheater was fearful to an unmuscular beholder, but the last man was finally landed without accident. The amphitheater was constructed much like a circus without canvass over head, and the twenty-five hundred persons present crowded it almost to suffocation.

Aaron was the first man to shy his castor into the ring, which to the astonishment of the unitiated was not a ring but a twenty-four square feet enclosure of green sward, surrounded by two ropes, with an outer ring about four feet wide running all around, which was partitioned off from the first row of seats by another rope. As he advanced inside of the ropes, deafening cheers from his partisans saluted him, and his twinkling Jewish eye laughed a response to the compliment. Collyer came in directly afterwards, and lost the choice of corners, which Aaron's friends claimed as a good omen for their man.

The seconds stripped their principals, and Alderman Bill McMullin, of Philadelphia, was chosen referee. He addressed the crowd saying: "These hyer boys have come hyer to fight, and I have come to see 'em. I like to see it, and they're going to fight on their merits. I am chosen referee, and I'm going to caution them both once—when they make a mistake, and after that I'll decide against any man who does it again."

The fighters seemed gratified at this exhibition of manly eloquence, and the crowd signified its appreciation thereof by round after round of cheers. The speaker continued: "You reporters musn't say anything about my name being referee. If you do, I'll slice your ears off when I catch you in Philadelphia."

Collyer was the first man stripped and presented a most magnificent physique. His bust was a perfect model of muscular perfection, but his face, although presenting some features indicating intelligence, and particularly firmness, was brown with the exposure of training, and looked like dry parchment. Aaron's body was not so full, but there was no extra flesh on it. The seconds posted their men and put spiked shoes on their feet, when the alderman referee called time.

The combatants approached the scratch, made with a stick in the sward, and shook hands. There was a smile of satisfaction on both their faces, and their hands looked like turkie's feet, as they had been tanned by some chemical preparation to make them tough. The fighting commenced at 9:10 and lasted through sixty-eight rounds, for two hours and fifty-five minutes. It was evident that Aaron would draw the first blood, as Collyer's flesh was in such perfect condition and so transparent that the veins of his arms and breast could be seen through it, twisted around the knotted cords and heavy muscles. Smoking was abolished, as the men objected to it.

The yells of the partizans were deafening as the sparring commenced, and when Aaron on the first round drew blood from Collyer's left temple his friends were almost frantic with joy. The blows from Collyer's right hand were terrible and were planted with a heavy thump on Aaron's left breast with unerring precision, causing him to grunt audibly. Aaron fought with great skill, and showed himself from the first to be the best sparrer.

He followed up his advantage on his opponent's left temple and eye in each subsequent round, and finally closed it. His strategy was splendid, as he took advantage of his privilege of going down after giving or receiving a blow, and avoided punishment, while Collyer sought him out in ever corner and pushed the fight with great vigor for forty rounds, which occupied an hour and a quarter.

Collyer kept his temper remarkably well, although his friends hissed Aaron's cowardly going to grass, and he was taunted by his opponent's supporters with cries of derision at his swollen face. He got the first knock-down, and after the forty-second round did not receive much punishment. But his previous injuries told on him with great effect. Aaron's left breast was badly marked and swelled, while his left eye was nearly closed, and his nose smashed flat and spread out all over the left side of his face. But little blood flowed from Aaron's wounds, while Collyer's injuries bled freely. Their faces were purple, and their left cheeks resembled big pieces of beef liver more than anything else.

During one of the rounds, in the fortieth, Aaron succeded in pushing Collyer back against the ropes, and pushing him hard caused him to vomit a great mouthful of blood. Collyer straightened himself up and with a side-winder brought the palm of his hand flat on the back of Aaron's head, sending him sprawling on the grass like a felled beef.

The rounds were much alike, except that the result of the wrestling varied with the advantages gained in clinching. On the 67th round, Collyer seemed to have improved, but one the 68th they wrestled and he fell in such a manner as to close his remaining eye, and could not come to time. Both men fainted, but Aaron revived first, and was able to walk to the boat, while Collyer had to be carried.

The brutality of the scene can only be appreciated by those who witnessed it, and the the fearful degradation of the crowd, as evidenced in their blasphemous and disgustingly filthy remarks of derision or encouragement, is beyond the imagination of even a Robelai. "Hit him for his mother," "for Andy Johnson," "for his sister," "for me," "for yourself," "as your father would," were the pet phrases.

Boroughs Disfranchised—Decrease in British Exports—The Prioleau Case—Charles Kean Seriously Ill.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The English papers to June 1st are received per Persia.

The boroughs of Lancaster, Yarmouth, Talutes and Reigate were totally disfranchised on account of bribery and corruption at the last election.

The Reform League adopted a resolution earnestly pressing for the ballot.

The Board of Trade returns for April show a reduction in exports, compared with last year, of £1,561,000.

The case of Prioleau against the United States was before the Vice Chancellor on the 30th on a technical point. The United States Government claim some cotton contributed by the people of Texas to the so-called Confederate Government. The plaintiff, Prioleau, put this interrogatory to the American Government, whether there was any law of the United States by which property contributed by any inhabitant of a State in the Union could be claimed by the National Government. The reply was that the United States claimed under the law of nations. It was contended on behalf of the plaintiff that this answer was not sufficient, and must be amended. The Vice Chancellor held that the United States government was bound to answer this question, "Do you admit or deny that there was a de facto government which exercised authority over the State of Texas?" Proceedings were therefore adjourned.

A Prussian is in custody in London charged with forging Dutch coupons so well executed as to have found their way in the Dutch, English, and several foreign markets.

Charles Kean is seriously ill of disease of the heart. It is doubtful if he ever returns to the stage.

GOOD TEMPLARS.

Fourteenth Annual Session of the Grand Lodge of the I. O. of G. T., of Pa.—Second Day's Session.

The Grand Lodge of I. O. of G. T., of this State, is still in session in Mozart Hall, in this city. The attendance of representatives and delegates from the various Lodges of the Order throughout the State is greatly in excess of any former Grand Lodge session, and yesterday many additional representatives arrived from distant counties. Among those in attendance from a distance we notice the head of the National Department of the Order, Mr. Hastings, of Madison, Wis. Also the Right Worthy Grand Secretary, J. A. Spencer, of Cleveland, Ohio. The G. W. C. T., of the State of Maryland, a very able man, is also in attendance, and much valuable and interesting information in reference to the progress and prospects of the good work in Maryland and other Southern States has been brought before the Grand Lodge.

Eloquent and instructive addresses have been made on various points brought up for discussion and deliberation by the leading spirits of the Association, and Right Worthy Grand Chief Templar Hastings has added greatly to the interest of the session by his participation in the work. He yesterday gave the Grand Lodge a full and explicit exemplification of all the unwritten or secret work of the Order in the several departments of the subordinate and degree work. It was gratifying to the State lecturers present to discover that the work as exemplified by the head of the Order for the whole Nation is in perfect harmony with the work as they have been in the habit of giving it.

An important matter was brought before the Grand Lodge yesterday in an eloquent speech by Mr. Hastings, in favor of missionary work being done by the Order in the Southern States and in other destitute fields, and the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania without a dissenting voice, voted to appropriate towards the aid of destitute fields outside of the State an amount of cash that will probably be not less than eight hundred dollars per year. The heartiness and earnestness with which this vote was given called forth an eloquent speech of thanks from G. W. C. T., Hastings, and if our friends in the South could have witnessed it, the effect would certainly have been great in convincing them that the North entertains towards them only feelings of peace and good will.

Some important votes were taken yesterday on change in the Grand Lodge Constitution, and a great deal of business was done that would, of course, be uninteresting to the general reader.

The selection of a place for holding the next annual session created much interest, and the claims of Erie, Harrisburg, Chambersburg and Williamsport were urged by the several representatives from those cities. It was finally decided that the city of Williamsport be the place for the next annual meeting, it being more central than the others.

Rev. J. S. McMurray was again chosen G. W. C. T. by a very large vote, and Miss L. E. Wright G. W. S. by a great majority. The election of Rev. J. S. McMurray is very complimentary to that excellent man, especially as he requested the Grand Lodge not to place him in nomination. His request to be allowed to retire from the arduous and responsible position, only seemed to increase the anxiety of his brethren to re-elect him. The G. W. S. elect, Miss L. E. Wright, we are informed, has now filled that office with great satisfaction for many years, and it is commonly reported that she has no equals in all the nation as a Secretary. With such efficient officers at the head the order cannot fail of success. The Good Templars are now the strongest of all temperance orders, and have twenty-seven Grand Lodges, all of which, from California to Maine and the British Provinces, were represented at the recent session of the Right Worthy Grand Longe at Detroit, on May 28th. The cause of temperance is gaining strength daily, and the time is not far distant when the liquor traffic will have stand branded as an outlaw, and the drinking customs and usage will be regarded as infamous, because injurious to the individual and society at large. Mrs. F. D. Gage, the talented authoress and friend of reform, was in attendance yesterday at the Grand Lodge, and evinced much interest in the proceedings.

The installation of Grand Lodge officers will take place to-day.

The Health of the City.

The number of interments in the city for the week ending June 9th, 1867, as reported by Dr. A. G. McCandless, Physician of the Board of Health, was but seven—an average of but one death per day. The cause of death were as follows: Enlargement of liver, one; cirrhosis, one; accidental poisoning, one; intemperance, one; inflammation of the brain, one; still born, one; dentition, one. Of the above there were: Under one year, one; from one to two, one; from two to five, one; from twenty to thirty, one; from thirty to forty, one; from fifty to sixty, one; from sixty to seventy, one. Males, six; females, one. White, seven; colored, none. Total, seven.

We cannot but congratulate the community on the unusual and remarkable good health of the city at the present time. The number of deaths, during the week mentioned, was perhaps smaller than it has been for years past. No city in the United States of equal population can boast of such freedom from disease and death as our citizens enjoy. This is, perhaps, owing in a great measure to the untiring efforts of the Board of Health, who are constantly engaged in cleansing the back alleys and courts of the city of their uncleanliness and filth.

The Rev. Alex. Clark,

Pastor of the Fifth street M. P. Church, writes: The Carhart & Needham Church (Parlor) Organ, which has been in use some ten years in the First Methodist Church of this city, is as true toned, sweet and powerful now as when its keys were first touched by the organist. Having given some attention to the different styles of reed instruments used in churches and schools, I take pleasure in recommending the Carhart & Needham as next in excellence to a regular pipe organ of two thousand dollars cost, and for ordinary sized Churches, as equal to any that can be procured. Of all reed instruments, the Carhart & Needham has the greatest variety and beauty in its combination of stops, and the most durable material and finish.

The Daily Commercial

FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1867.

THE COMMERCIAL is the largest daily paper in the State, and gives daily one-fourth more reading than any other paper in Pittsburgh. It is the only Pittsburgh paper that uses the telegraph liberally, gives full market reports, and all the news of the day.

IN the Democratic State Convention, the resolution offered by ALBERT SCHOFIELD, complimenting General SHERIDAN for his treatment of Governor WELLS, was declared out of order, and never heard of again. When was a resolution complimenting our heroes ever in order in a Democratic Convention?

"ACTIONS speak louder than words," is a motto as sound as it is old. The action of the Democratic Convention in smothering the resolution proposing a vote of thanks to General SHERIDAN, the ignoring of the Free Railroad Law, the arraigning of the policy whereby the fruits of the war will be secured, are both actions and words which leave the people no doubt whom not to trust.

THE Democratic State Convention which met in Harrisburg on the 11th instant, adopted twelve resolutions relating to almost every conceivable question but the Free Railroad Law. On that question not a word was uttered. A measure so nearly related to the permanent welfare of the whole State, and in which the people are interested more than any other, is not even recognized by a party asking for popular support. The inevitable inference is that the Democratic party is opposed to a Free Railroad Law.

IN the Democratic State Convention there was a regular stand-up fight between the friends of CHARLES E. BOYLE and JEREMIAH S. BLACK for the organization, which resulted in throwing BLACK overboard and the selection of BOYLE for presiding officer. The vote stood, seventy-four for BOYLE and forty-four for BLACK. This was claimed as a triumph for the young Democracy. Another cropping out of the element of disaffection was the refusal by the Convention to pass a vote of thanks to the Hon. W. A. WALLACE, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

A REMEDY FOR A GREAT EVIL.

The recent shocking disclosures as to the kind of meat on which the principal cities feed, have drawn attention to the cause, and led to some steps looking to a cure. No doubt most of the disgusting facts arise directly from the manner animals are transported from West to East, necessarily entailing deterioration and absolute unfitness for any market. Bad men are everywhere ready, whenever they have a chance, to do precisely what twenty odd men here have been and twice that number should have been indicted for doing. Such offenders deserve and no doubt will receive punishment; but the reformation of the system of transportation and supply is no less a necessity. Something of this sort is proposed in the shape of refrigerating cars for transporting slaughtered animals. It is similar to an ordinary freight car, and is so constructed and of such material that it is claimed beef or any fresh meat can be transported any distance without danger of deterioration or shrinkage. An ordinary stock car will take sixteen live steers, whereas one of this kind will store thirty-two—a saving of one-half in freight alone. It is estimated that cattle weighing fifteen hundred pounds on the hoof lose two hundred pounds of dressing meat in transportation from Chicago to Boston, and to suffer great deterioration besides. These considerations are independent of those growing out of the cruelty and suffering incident to transportation, and the influence on public health from the consumption of such meat as for some time past Pittsburgh and no doubt most of other cities have been subsisting on. The field is one for invention and law, and the proposed solution of the problem by slaughtering in the West and transporting the meat to the Eastern markets, impresses us favorably.

BE INDUSTRIOUS AND SAVING.

It is evident that in certain parts of the North even there is real and extensive suffering among the poorer classes of laboring people, for want of work. The number of persons landing there from abroad is also constantly and rapidly increasing the difficulty. Much the larger proportion of the immigrants pass through as rapidly as possible to their distant places of destination in the broad West. But some remain in the city where they land, and these are most likely to be of the poorer class, not having the means of continuing their journey, and perhaps having had no other definite purpose in view, but to reach this promised land of good wages. Two cases of suicide are reported in one day, caused by melancholy induced by hopeless poverty and destitution. Large numbers of clerks and salesmen, too, have been discharged, on account of the continued dullness of business, and these exhibit many cases of severe suffering, having never saved anything to fall back upon, at such a time as the present.

Similar causes may produce the like consequences in our city. We doubt not, that there are many cases of scanty supply and gloomy prospects already. The comparison that long existed in the relation between employers and laborers must have caused debts to be increased by those who had no savings to fall back upon, and must have made visible reduction in the surplus laid aside by others. The extent of privation and need, we have not the means of ascertaining, but, in referring to the condition of many in other places, which we do for the sake of a caution, we take the occasion to reiterate our counsel to persons who are earning good wages, to use them with great economy and to lay by them for future use, as much as possible of their daily earnings. It is far more creditable to the intellect and the heart, to provide something, if practicable, for future need, than to spend all on the enjoyments of the present hour. This is true, even when money that might be saved is spent in vicious indulgences which entail disease and poverty. There is something contemptibly mean as well as foolish and wicked, in pursuing a course that is almost sure to make one not only a dependent, but also a burden upon others.

THE CARRION VENDERS.

It is the public judgment that the Grand Jury have done a most just and proper thing in investigating the public reports made in the COMMERCIAL, on the sale of unwholesome meat in our markets. It is just both to the citizens and civilization that such an abominable and dangerous deception should be exposed and stopped, and the guilty perpetrators of it punished. It is just, also, to respectable men, honestly prosecuting a useful business and calling. True bills have been found by the Grand Jury against some of the parties accused of being engaged in this nefarious and disgusting traffic. Without intending to complain, we will say that, had the investigation been continued, others would inevitably have been indicted.

In view of the sickening exposures that have been made in our columns, and which have been verified by testimony before the Grand Jury, we earnestly ask whether there is not within the bounds of possibility some method of inspection that shall embrace all parts of the market house and the traffic done in it, and that shall afford, to people purchasing their food there, some assurance that it is decently clean and free, at least, from infectious disease. It is not pleasant to have a healthy appetite, after our food has been neatly and carefully cooked in our own tidy kitchen, confronted by the thought that it may nevertheless be the morbid remains of an animal, such as have been referred to lately in these columns. Unless this matter is thoroughly adjusted, people having any delicacy, not to say squeamishness of stomach, will have to become vegetarians, and discard market meat altogether.

But we do not anticipate such a necessity. There are healthy and sound animals enough, and there are reliable and honest butchers enough. If the stalls could be cleared of the foul, cancerous meat, and the trade of the detestable villains that have been accustomed to vend it, we could eat our steak and roast again with satisfaction. We hope the exposures made in the COMMERCIAL, and the prompt efforts of the Courts will secure these results. We shall be satisfied with our share of the thanks of the community, should the horrid nuisance that we have exposed be entirely removed.

CHICAGO failures are becoming quite frequent. The Republican, of Wednesday, remarks that a grand operator failed that day, and other failures were reported, but not of great magnitude.

THE Richmond Times, one of the most virulent of the rabid Southern Press, has ceased to exist. It is, so far as it goes, a good indication, and we sincerely hope there may be more of the same sort.

THE following notorious characters are mentioned in a Toronto paper as being, or having recently been, in those parts: The notorious Davis, the notorious Dr. Blackburn, Mason and Captain Winder.

THE Indiana, Pa., Messenger makes its appearance this week in an enlarged form, and is now the largest newspaper published in Indiana county. It is a good local and general news paper, and staunch Republican journal.

THE Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger says: All statements about so-called "rings" having urged the President to remove Sheridan are without foundation in truth. But one person, a Louisiana politician, a radical, has suggested Sheridan's removal. Mr. Johnson has not encouraged any one to believe that he entertained the idea of such removal.

THE Chicago Republican publishes crop and fruit reports from different parts of Illinois, all of an encouraging character to a remarkable degree. There is manifest no tone of discouragement concerning the corn crop. Though late, it is starting finely, under the influence of June heat; and there is plenty of time for it to grow and produce a heavy harvest, if the season is favorable.

THE Independent denounces the remark made by the Rev. Dr. Hopkins, Moderator of the New School General Assembly at Rochester, wherein he declared that the Episcopal denomination of the United States had an "imbecile pulpit," in an article of which the following is a sample:

"The remark of Dr. Hopkins was a distilled drop of the quintessential tincture of the drop of sectarianism. The fact that such a remark fell from the lips of so eminent, able and noble a clergyman, shows how unconsciously, yet how insidiously and irresistibly, a sectarian spirit bewilders the judgment and good taste of men whom the Church would make broad, but whom the sect keeps narrow."

IN determining not to permit his prepared legal opinion to be transmitted by telegraph, Mr. Stanbery proves that he has learned something from experience. His former document was committed to the wires, and, of course, horribly mutilated. The public man who, when he can, does not keep a document of importance from the wires, manifests great carelessness, or gross ignorance of the imperfect state telegraphing is yet in.

WE learn from the Chicago Tribune that the heavy losses sustained during the past week by the "bulls," by the rapid decline in corn has told fearfully on their pockets, and the profits made on wheat last winter have quietly disappeared. When margins run out, or have nearly done so, the commission merchant throws the property on the market to save himself, which he sometimes fails to do. In this event he gets a note for the difference, which, it is generally understood, will never be paid.

WHAT the London Times says of England may, in a measure, be said of the people of our country—that there is an apparent inconsistency between our policy about rebellion at home and our feelings concerning it abroad. The cases, it is true, are not parallel, but while we put forth our power to the utmost for the suppression of rebellion at home, we have a traditional propensity to favor it with our sympathy in other lands. Greece, Hungary, Mexico, in rebellion against oppression, have had American sympathy. The rebellion in our own country was of a different sort, and justly was encountered by a different feeling.

AN instructive and encouraging suggestion is offered by the decline and suspension of several of the Southern journals. It is noticeable that those which have reached this fate have been of the more violent sort during and since the war. The Richmond Times is the latest and perhaps the most distinguished of the deceased journals. We cannot but consider it a hopeful evidence of the condition of the people morally and politically, that they would not patronize papers of so incendiary a character. One can enjoy an angry demonstration for a little while in the direction of his own sympathies. But a protracted and ceaseless flow of invective and abuse becomes tedious and disgusting. Besides there is probably something retributive in these results. The terrible deceptions practised by the Southern press, in the inauguration of the rebellion against the wishes of a degree majority of the people, have been in a degree exposed by the progress of events, and the deceivers are subjected to retaliation from their dupes. Whatever may be the cause, the fact is worthy of notice. And it is to be hoped a better class of journals will be employed in place of the departed.

Gen. Grant in Wheeling.

Our sister city, Wheeling, has been honored with a visit from Gen. Grant, who with his family and Gen. Dent, have been to our neighboring town of Washington to attend the wedding of Mr. Wm. Smith, Jr., a cousin. He remained but a short time, said little, as usual, smoked much, and talked sensibly. He was to make a very brief stay in Washington and return to headquarters the next day.

The New Orleans Sub-Treasury Defalcation.

It is stated on good authority that the Treasury Department has received information from New Orleans, implicating a high official of the present State government in the recent Sub-Treasury defalcation. It is asserted that while in the employ of the Treasury Department he became aware of the defalcation, but failed to report it, as was his duty, and it was not discovered until Secretary McColloch sent Special Agent Knox to New Orleans, for the express purpose of examining the condition of the Depository. The assets turned over by Messrs. Whittaker and May, the defaulting Louisiana sub-Treasurers, although purporting to amount to $1,250,000 as security against loss by the Government, has been ascertained to be almost worthless. Among other securities presented by Mr. May, was a draft of four hundred thousand dollars on Oakes Ames, of Massachusetts, to which he signed the name of A. S. Mansfield, per Thos. P. May, which signature Mansfield repudiates as unauthorized by him. It is hardly probable that the Government will realize $500,000, although the defalcations amount altogether to the round sum of $1,600,000. Owing to the precarious condition of financial affairs in New Orleans, Sub-Treasurer Walton, appointed to succeed Whittaker the defaulter, finds great difficulty in getting acceptable bonds. Special Agent Knox, now in New Orleans, has been instructed to examine the commercial status of the parties offered as securities, and to remain there until satisfactory bonds have been obtained.

The Progressive Friends.

The Society of Progressive Friends held its fifteenth anniversary at Longwood, Chester county, Pa., on the 6th, 7th and 8th insts. About one thousand persons were in attendance, from nearly all the Northern, and a few of the Southern States. Testimonies were presented on religion, war, use of intoxicating drinks, rights of women, rights of children, reconstruction, dress reform, and the Indian question. The most radical positions were advanced, and all were adopted that time would admit of being considered. The Indian question contained a memorial to Congress, and a circular letter to the Indians, suggesting a different policy, and asking for delegations of friends to go among the tribes. For want of time this was referred to next year's meeting.

The discussion on religion, war, and intemperance occupied about two days, and was participated in by Robert Collyer, of Chicago; W. W. Newell, of Pennsylvania; Henry G. Spaulding, Edward J. Galvin, Dr. Ellen B. Harman, Henry C. Wright, Alfred H. Love, Charles Hadden, Edward M. Davis, Lucretia Mott, Robert Purvis, Lewis Marshall, Caleb Jackson, Chandler Darlington, Oliver Johnson, Sarah Pierson, Elizabeth B. Chase, John G. Jackson, J. Williams Thorne, William Lloyd, J. H. MacElroy, and others. Letters were read from Aaron M. Powell, Frances D. Gage, J. Freeman Clarke, and others.

The interest was very general, and the influence full of love and freedom. The Friends spread their board open to all visitors, and the fact was noted that a large First-day school had been formed for the children.

BLACK BAND IN SOMERSET COUNTY.—The Somerset Herald says: "Black Band Iron Ore discoveries are being heralded in many of our exchanges, and immense are the congratulations of communities when it is found to exist in their localities. There is a large body of land in this county, on the line of the Connellsville Railroad, underlaid with a six foot vein of this ore, and it might as well be the slate it was once thought to be, for all the value it is to its possessor, for want of facilities, to get it to market."

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Charles Hesler, who arrived in Chicago from California a few days since, went to a picnic at Haas's Park, the other afternoon. When he arrived there he went bathing in the Desplaines River. On returning to the bank, he discovered that his vest, in the lining of which some $1,600 in twenty dollar gold pieces were sewed, had disappeared. No clue has yet been obtained to the perpetrator of the robbery. It is doubtful whether such a chronic fool as Hesler must be, will learn anything even from this bit of experience.

The whole number of immigrants arriving at New York during the month of May, are officially stated at 45,558, of whom the majority were from Liverpool and Bremen. The indications are that the entries for the current month will be far in excess of those of its predecessors.

The potato bug is destroying the growing potato crop in some parts of Iowa and in the Rock river region of Illinois. The pestiferous insects swarm over the potato fields like locusts and literally devour the plants.

The co-operation plan is growing in popularity. In New York between 140 and 150 tailors are about to embark in a co-operative enterprise, with $5,000 or $10,000 paid capital. Nearly every man already owns a machine, which the will throw into the concern, and almost every dollar can be used in buying cloths. The New York boiler makers are to have a co-operative shop, and at Hamilton, C. W., a bakery on this plan is to be opened. In Worcester, a co-operative carpenters' shop, with $20,000 capital, has been opened. When shall we have co-operation practically tested in Pittsburgh?

A German and his wife were arrested recently in the Exposition, the former charged with fraudulent bankruptcy. They were searched. "No effects," was the reply of the searcher, when the size of the lady's chignon caught his attention, and he pulled it off. It way a nest of bank notes.

It is estimated that the United States Bishops will carry $400,000. To be added to this, as part of the American contributions, are the donations of the dozen rich dioceses of British America, the West India Islands, Mexico, Central America, Brazil and the other South American States, making probably one million or more from this Continent. In England many of the wealthy aristocracy and middle classes are of that Church, and the contribution will be large, while Continental Europe will swell the aggragate to a very respectable sum, upon which the deposed monarch may support his ecclesiastical rank in the style to which he has been accustomed.

It is stated that 180,000 voters have registered in Alabama, and that of this number one-half are negroes.

The Internal Revenue Bureau has now on hand ninety-seven thousand two hundred gallons of whisky, condemned and forfeited to the United States under the act passed last February; besides which about two hundred and fifty thousand gallons are under seizure, but have not yet been formally condemned. The Commissioner is not is position to say how much more has been forfeited or sold for the benefit of the Treasury.

The Luxemburgers, for whose city France and Prussia wanted to fight, have a very popular amusement in their cat races. Everybody who has an animal of the feline persuasion takes it in a bag two miles from the city gates, where, at a given signal, the bags are all emptied, and the cats start for home, frightened nearly to death. The cat that reaches the city first wins the honors of the race.

A gentleman who has traveled through a large portion of Virginia by private conveyance, reports that the whole mass of people whom he encountered, both black and white, are literally clothed in rags. Their shoes and head gear are in keeping with their other scant clothing. Taking Virginia as a fair standard for the whole South, we can readily solve the causes of the terrible depression in the various branches of trade which supply their needs.

The London Daily News says that Maximilian's misfortunes "will be a standing warning to European adventurers that no personal rank, however exalted, no blessing of Popes, or patronage or assistance of Emperors, or support of capitalists, or recognition by established governments, can make filibustering anything but filibustering."

PERSONAL.

—Mr. Swinton, of the New York Times, had an interesting interview last week with General Lee, in Virginia. Though not permitted to retail what was said, the writer understands from those who are in intimate daily converse with him, that he is strongly in favor of the people of his State and of the South "coming right up, frankly accepting the situation and earnestly pursuing the work of reconstruction." Personally, he is at present in the flush of health.

—Captain John L. Worden, of Monitor fame, late in command of the sloop-of-war Pensacola, of the South Pacific Squadron, arrived in New York from San Francisco Wednesday morning, per steamer Arizona.

—One of the colored jurymen of the Federal Court in Richmond was a former servant of Henry A. Wise.

—Gerritt Smith has published a long letter to prove that he would have been inconsistent if he had refused to sign Jeff. Davis's bond. It was wholly unnecessary. To have done anything else would have been totally inconsistent with Mr. Smith's general plan of action. The kicking cow that "fails to put her foot in it" is inconsistent with herself.

—Juarez, having bought Maximilian so cheaply, might make a good thing out of it by selling him to his mother, who, it is said, is ready to give fifty millions for him. The income might be supplemented by selling to those who would get hold of him, the wretch who sold Max.

—Joseph H. Richards, Treasurer of Harrison county, Indiana, is reported a defaulter to the amount of $20,000. His son had the care of the money. The securities are sufficient to cover the loss.

POLITICAL.

WESTMORELAND COUNTY.

The Greensburg Herald of this week, suggests to the Union Republican voters of Westmoreland county, that they vote at the primary elections to-morrow, against the candidate for Assembly, whose backers and supporters are principally Democrats. This is a good suggestion, and should be heeded, as such a candidate would not be a safe Republican representative.

A Greensburg correspondent writes as follows: "In your issue of the 11th inst., a correspondent says that the opponent of Col. G. for nomination on the Legislative ticket in Westmoreland, was brought out by and stands on the platform of the liquor men, and that the Colonel is opposed by the Pennsylvania Railroad. The facts in brief are that Captain Trees does not stand on any platform, and further he is unqualifiedly committed in favor of a Free Railroad Law. By no written evidence that we have seen is Col. Gallagher committed on either the temperance or railroad question. This however has not been made the issue in the primary contest. The question is well understood here, and is simply whether the people themselves shall have the right to nominate or whether it shall be done at the behest of wirepullers whose selfishness has kept in the minority principles, which had it not been for this incubus, would long since have been in the majority in this county. It may not have been Col. Gallagher's fault, but it surely has been his misfortune to have these professional politicians hanging to his clothes, and feeding on the spoils his place produced. Col. Gallagher was a member of the last Legislature. The history of that session is written. We take it for granted that Colonel Gallagher did no actual wrong, but we do complain that he nowhere raised his voice in protestation, or explanation of the alleged corruption of that session. He is, doubtless, a good man, but being imposed on as he was last winter by politicians, who now have his interests in charge, and who rail against opposition to their decrees, we think him in danger if sent back. On the other hand men of honest political conviction announced and indorse Captain James Trees. They thought they had the right; they think so yet. His case has gone to the people. No unusual means were adopted to get him voters. Tricks have been played, and traps set against him in vain. He is an honest man under all circumstances, with clean hands and clear head—the life of our Legislative District when it was in the minority, always ready for the sake of party discipline to be a candidate when nobody else would—he will be the honor of a majority District. Captain Trees is identified with no clique, and only as an independent citizen would he take a nomination. He is opposed to unlimited local legislation, and anxious that the Pennsylvania Legislature should be a deliberative body, and not a cobbling shop to patch up bad law-suits, nor an adjunct to monopolies. The friends of Captain Trees regret the necessity that compels them to appear in print, but have been, and are ready to meet the issue whenever presented.

"WESTMORELAND."

The Lancaster County Union Republican Convention met in Lancaster on Wednesday, nearly two hundred delegates being present. The following gentlemen were elected delegates to the State Convention: O. J. Dickey, George Brubaker, John M. Stehman, Frederich Myers, Jos. Pownall and Jacob F. Frey. The Convention adopted resolutions instructing the County Committee to change the mode and manner of nominating candidates for office, from the delegate to the system commonly known as the "Crawford county system." Resolutions were adopted indorsing the action of Congress relative to reconstruction; favoring equality of all men before the law, and indorsing the course of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, their representative in Congress. The following were also adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That a government which neglects to make provision for the losses of its loyal citizens, through a causeless rebellion, is basely negligent of its duty, and we recognize it as the paramount duty of Congress to enact at once such laws as will confiscate and apply the property of leading and wealthy rebels to the payment of the damages so inflicted.

Resolved, That the release of Jefferson Davis on bail is a deliberate bid for aiding treason and rebellion, and such an outrage to the memory of the men who laid down their lives for their country, to their widows and orphans, to the soldiers who suffered in the many prison pens of the South, as to merit the earnest protest and rebuke of every loyal citizen of the land.

The Fogler Confession—Inquiry into Conduct of his Counsel.

Last week, Messrs. Wm. Kennan, D. S. Wilson and Alex. Wilson, counsel for Wm. Montgomery, Jr., recently acquitted of the murder of Robert W. Dinsmore, in justification of their connection with the case, presented a paper to Judge Acheson setting forth certain proceedings of L. R. W. Little, counsel for Fogler, asking that the Bench might institute such inquiry as the integrity of the Bar and the interests of the public might require. Messrs. G. S. Hart and Freeman Brady, Jr., who were counsel for young Montgomery at the preliminary examination before the Coroner, also joined in the petition of the above gentlemen. The first mentioned gentlemen also corroborate the statement of Fogler in his confession, relative to the effort of Little to have communication with Fogler, which failed because Sheriff Smith refused to leave them alone until he was informed of the nature of the visit. A third statement was made by Messrs. McKennan and Wilsons on Friday, relative, to the affidavit of Fogler for a writ of error, showing that Messrs. Ruth and Little, Fogler's counsel, obtained the unfortunate man's signature to the statement denying his guilt, without reading the statement to him. The statement of these gentlemen concludes as follows: "Your Honors will know that the form of an affidavit for a writ of error is prescribed by statute, with which all members of the bar are justly presumed to be familiar. The undersigned, therefore, submit that the usual and superfluous addition thereto of a declaration of innocence by the affiant must have some object aside from the necessary, legal or proper use of the affidavit, and demands inquiry and explanation; and that if so significant a part of it was not read to the affiant, the object and conduct of those concerned in such a delinquency cannot be otherwise than reprehensible."

After hearing the third statement read, his Honor, Judge Acheson, remarked that the Court had duly considered the papers submitted to them on Thursday, and now looking at them in connection with the one which had just been presented, he was satisfied that they contained matters seriously affecting the integrity of the bar, and which at least demanded explanation. The time was when the bar of Washington county enjoyed a reputation for integrity second to no other in the State, and if from neglect of its duty the Court should permit this good name to be lost, the Judges would be unworthy of the seats they occupied.

The Judge then proceeded to defend Judge Agnew from the aspersions of a Democratic paper published in Washington, and concluded by directing that a rule be entered requiring Messrs. Ruth and Little (both of whom were absent) to make answer to the petitions at the adjourned court to be held on the 25th of June.

LITTLE APPLIES FOR ADMISSION TO STEUBENVILLE BAR.

In the Court of Common Pleas, of Jefferson County, Ohio, Tuesday morning, Judge McIlvaine presiding, L. R. W. Little, Esq., from Washington County, Pa., and who was engaged as an attorney in the now notorious Fogler trial, arose inside the bar and proceeded to say to the Court: "May it please your Honor, desiring to be permitted to practice in this Court during the term, and being unfortunate in not having any member of the bar to propose my admission, I rise to ask for myself to be admitted as an attorney of this bar. There may be some question for the bar here about the propriety of this, growing out of my rumored connection with the Fogler case; there have been newspaper statements derogatory to my character, but whatever they are I am prepared to meet them." Judge McIlvaine said—"I suppose you refer to the Confession of Fogler. I understand that the court of Washington county has ordered an inquiry in the matter. We cannot go into trial of it here until it is settled. We recognize the courtesies due to members of the bar of States which recognize our attorneys and admit them to the rights of their bars; in carrying out this reciprocity, which we recognize, we will admit you for the present, by placing on file in this court a written denial to be made under oath of the statements of Fogler." Little—"You mean the statements published in our county." Judge—"I mean particularly the statement you influenced Fogler to refuse to testify against Montgomery under promise of favor. You can make your affidavit and we shall then see how far it covers the statements of Fogler."

THE gross receipts of six leading railroads fell off as follows in May: New York Central $58,000, Michigan Central $31,244, Fort Wayne $70,000, Michigan Southern $70,000, Rock Island $73,194, Cleveland and Toledo $30,108. The Chicago and Northwestern shows, on 149 miles of New Road, an increase of only $46,000, which is equivalent to a falling off of fully $200,000 for the month. It is noticeable that the heaviest decrease on all these roads was in the last week of May, from whence it may be inferred that the June receipts will be even lighter than those of May. Indeed, western men, who notice the extreme poverty of the West, do not hesitate to say that the railroad traffic in June, July and August will be the lightest on record for years.

ON Thursday evening, a lady of Troy sitting in her room, was instantaneously oppressed with the conviction that her little son had fallen from the window in his sleeping apartment to the ground below. She repelled the thought as an impossibility. In a few moments more it flashed upon her mind with such force that she could not resist it. She hurried up to the bedside of her son, and there, to her intense horror, she discovered the lad sleeping upon the window sill, the window open, his head projecting outside—he was on the very point of falling to the pavement below! Who can explain this phenomena which is unquestionably true!

FILES! FILES!
THE AUBURN FILE WORKS
AUBURN, NEW YORK,

Would call the attention of manufacturers and those using Files and Rasps to the superior article of HAND CUT FILES, which they are now making from the best quality of Cast Steel, consisting of Flat, Hand, Mill, Saw, Round, Half Round, Square, Taper Saw Files, Horse Rasps, and all other kinds, which are in no respect inferior to any now made.

It accords neither with our taste or our principle to assert that our Files have never been approached by any other manufacturer. The Files must speak for themselves, and those who wish to purchase largely are sufficiently wise to accept the evidence of the files rather than the assertion of the manufacturers.

Your orders may be left with T. H. RICHARDS, Esq., 30 Fifth street, Pittsburgh, where samples of some of the principal kinds may be examined and prices obtained. Your orders will be carefully executed at the manufactory, and warranted to give satisfaction or Files returned.

We have permission to refer to the Pittsburgh Novelty Works, who are now using our work to their entire satisfaction. Under date of November 28, 1867, they say:

"The files give general satisfaction in regard to "temper and cut. The only objection we find is, "they are cut too fine for our use. A coarser cut "would suit us better. Please remember this when "we send another order."

Also of May 6th, 1867, enclosing draft for $183 73.

"Your Files give satisfaction, and you have permission to use our name in regard to their quality."

Please call and examine samples before placing your orders.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—CANCER—The days of "brilliant operations" are no more. The discovery of Holloway's Ointment dispensed with the necessity of the knife, which frequently endangered the life of the patient. Thousands of females have been cured of cancer in the breast by the medicating action of the Ointment, and their lives spared to their families. The salve follows the cancer in its tortuous winding, and imperceptibly but thoroughly and painlessly eradicates it from the system. The Pills cleanse and purify the blood. Sole by all Druggists.

JULES JARED'S

"EMAIL DE PARIS,"

THE NEW

BEAUTIFIER OF THE SKIN

Testimonials from Celebrated Ladies:

The secret of beautifying the Skin being known only to Messrs. Jared & Rene, they honestly state that it differs from all other preparations. It gives to the most harsh and freckled skin both the color and texture of polished ivory, removing all discolorations, whether appearing as freckles, tan, morphew, moth or black-worm specks, and is especially successful in smoothing out the marks left by small-pox.

The agents of "Email de Paris" most confidently submit to the public the earnest endorsements of such distinguished ladies as

Signora Ristori, M'lle Felicita Vestvali, Miss Maggie Mitchell, Mrs. D. P. Bowers, Lucille Western, Mad. Ponisi, Mrs. Emma Waller, Lucy Rushton, Noemie de Marguerrittes, Miss Agnes Perry,

And many others, whose high standing in the profession gives the stamp of truthfulness to their intelligent and genuine approval.

The beautiful Lucille Western says:

I find that the "Email" produces all the brilliancy of rouge and lilly white, with the great and peculiar advantages of perfect harmlessness. It really adds to the softness and beauty of the skin.

The Magnificent Vestvali says:

I have suffered so much from the various white lotions, &c., which my theatrical profession obliges me to use, that I consider it a perfect benefaction to find a preparation which gives the necessary whiteness to the skin, and leaves the skin cool and smooth.

Miss Maggie Mitchell says:

I have tried the skin beautifier "L'Email de Paris," and found that it instantly imparts a natural bloom and freshness to the complexion.

"Jared Email de Paris" is used as a delicate beautifier of the skin for Theater, Saloon or Ball Room, by the most refined and scrupulous ladies; producing all the beautifying effects of rouge and lilly white, without their vulgar glare or injury to the skin.

Sold by all first-class Druggists, Perfumers and Ladies' Hair Dressers.

CITY MATTERS.

THE HOMICIDE IN ALLEGHENY.

Investigation by the Coroner--Arrest of Victor G. Keller--Further Testimony--Another Adjournment of the Jury.

The jury empanneled by Coroner Clawson, to investigate into the circumstances attending the death of James Goldrich, who was shot on Monday night at Dennis Keller's liquor store, No. 234 Ohio street, Allegheny, re-assembled yesterday morning, for the purpose of hearing additional evidence. The jury consists of the following gentlemen: Messrs. D. L. Crawford, E. N. Scrogg, W. H. King, J. N. Helmold, James Irwin and H. K. Tyler. On Tuesday evening, young McFarland had a hearing before the Mayor, which resulted in Thomas Goldrich, a brother of deceased, lodging an information against Victor G. Keller, charging him with having fired the fatal shot. The information was based on the evidence given by Keller before the Coroner's jury that he had struck McFarland twice with his fist, and upon hearing the report of the pistol and the breaking of the window, jumped over some barrels and ran out the back way to his father's house, two doors below. Keller has been arrested, and will be held until the investigation has been concluded. He has retained John M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., as counsel, who was present at the investigation.

The following witnesses were examined yesterday:

TESTIMONY OF OFFICER WESSEL.

Charles Wessel, recalled—Arrested prisoner; did not see whether any person had hold of him at the time; was standing at the opposite side of the street when I first saw him, he was standing at the right hand side of the door with his right hand raised; saw the flash close to his face; no person was near him at the time. Prisoner had on a light linen coat; he did not try to get away; after I heard the report I ran over the street and saw he was fighting with somebody; saw no person but him when I went in; did not see young Keller; old Mr. Keller came and took hold of McFarland; he did not know that I was an officer. Mr. Keller took McFarland up to deceased, and told him to look what he had done; after I had arrested prisoner I noticed that the glass was broken; it appeared to have been broken from the inside; just before the report saw McFarland have his hand raised; had a good view of him; he said nothing to me about the shooting after his arrest.

TESTIMONY OF OFFICER CAMPBELL.

Frank Campbell, sworn—Am a member of the night police; was at the scene of the murder soon after it occurred; Wessel was trying to arrest the prisoner, who remarked that he would go to the office with no Dutchman; went back to try to find the pistol; then came down with the prisoner; coming across the street told prisoner that Goldrich had been shot, and he said that he wished it had been himself; cried and appeared to feel very badly; he did not say that he had done any shooting; was not there until prisoner had been arrested; saw young Keller after I went back; had no conversation with him, however.

MISS KELLER'S STATEMENT.

Miss Frances Keller, a daughter of Dennis Keller, was in the room at the time McFarland and deceased came in. She saw McFarland strike, but could not tell at whom. A stranger who was in the store, told her that he felt the ball pass his ear. She further stated that her cousin, now under arrest, was in the room at the time of the shot, but could not state where he was standing. She did not see him strike McFarland.

TESTIMONY OF JAMES MARSHALL.

Jas. Marshall sworn—Was going along Ohio street on the night of the murder with a party of friends. Heard some one say there was a fight; was on the opposite side of the street; started to go over to Keller's; when I reached the curbstone I saw the flash of a pistol; the flash was directly over McFarland's back. McFarland was in a stooping position, as though some person was drawing him in. A policeman then came running across the street and caught McFarland, and dragged him out into the street; didn't see a pistol; hunted for one but could not find it. Didn't see young Keller; there were others in the room, but did not notice them. McFarland appeared to be partly out of the door; didn't notice McFarland have hold of any person; saw him kick at old Mr. Keller afterwards; heard the glass break before the shot was fired; one of the doors was opened; don't know which side; I didn't take particular notice of any one in the room; I think I noticed a man dressed in black clothes, with black Kossuth hat, standing near the counter; the deceased, when I first saw him, was lying with his head towards Ohio street; he was lying on his face; deceased was afterwards turned over, and I recognized him.

Several other witnesses were examined, but no new facts were elicited. Peter Goldrich, brother of deceased, had been with McFarland during the entire afternoon, and neither saw him have a pistol nor knew him to have one.

VISIT TO MR. KELLER'S HOUSE.

The jury, accompanied by the Coroner, visited Dennis Keller's store, and viewed the premises. Mr. Keller explained the position of deceased at the time he was shot, and from his statement it was apparent that the window had been broken from the inside in the scuffle immediately before the firing. The names of the visitors from Erie, who were at Mr. Keller's house on the night of the difficulty, were given as Jacob Seifert, Frank Schmidt and Michael Ballentine. The jury decided that it would be necessary to examine them before they could agree upon a verdict, and accordingly directed the Coroner to require their presence on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock, at which time they will again convene.

Meeting of the Soldiers' Monumental Association.

The Allegheny County Soldiers' Monumental Association met in City Hall yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, Gen. A. L. Pearson presiding, and Capt. B. F. Jennings acting as Secretary.

On motion, a special committee, consisting of W. W. Ward, Esq., and the Printing Committee, was appointed [illegible] was referred all advertising bills.

On motion of W. [illegible] Clark, the following was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Association are due, and are hereby tendered to David M. Lyle, Chief of the Pittsburgh Fire Department, for his kindness in superintending the building of the prize hose carriage offered in competition at the Soldiers' Monumental Fair.

The death of Miss Rachel McFadden was announced by a member of the Association. The following resolution was offered and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Monumental Association, learn with sincere regret of the death of Miss Rachel McFadden, whose life illustrates a devotion, sympathy and heroism in the cause of her country and the welfare of its defenders, that challenge our strongest admiration and most grateful acknowledgments.

General Negley reported the balance paid over to this committee by the committee who made the collection for the former Association.

The bill of Hogle & Chambers was referred to Committee on Base Ball Implements.

On motion, a vote of thanks was returned to the Hope and Friendship Fire Companies for favors rendered the Executive Committee during the Fair.

On motion of Mrs. Jno. Watt, the receipt of a number of copies of his book for the Fair from James E. Murdoch, the tragedian, was acknowledged.

On motion, the thanks of the Association was returned to the members of the press for favors received before and during the Fair.

The Association then adjourned to meet at the call of the President.

The McCoy Trial—Continued until November.

In the Court of Common Pleas at Steubenville, on Tuesday afternoon, Judge McIlvaine presiding, Lewis K. McCoy and John J. McCoy were brought into Court for arraignment on the indictment charging them with the murder of Joseph McDonald, at McCoy's Station, on the C. & P. R. R., on the 6th of April last. The Commonwealth was represented by District Attorney Dayton and Messrs. McCauslan and Owesney, and the defense by Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., of Pittsburgh, and Messrs. Walden, Wright, Trainor and Taggart. The four counts of the indictment were read to the prisoners, to each of which they plead "Not Guilty." The counsel for the defense then asked for the continuance of the case until the November term of Court, on the ground that the prisoners had not sufficient time to prepare their defense. The counsel for the prosecution opposed the continuance. After considerable delay, the Court finally ordered the continuance of the case for trial until the 11th day of November next. The prisoners were then remanded to jail.

THE COURTS.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Before Judge Mellon.

Emanuel Rough was arraigned on a charge of abandonment preferred by his wife Sarah. The jury found a verdict of guilty, and the court ordered the defendant to enter into bonds in the sum of $500 for the payment to her of four dollars per week. Being unable to give the required security he was committed to jail.

J. A. Carline, a resident of the Ninth ward, was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by John and Catharine Greenwalt. A cross-suit, instituted by defendant against Mrs. Greenwalt for a similar charge, was tried at the same time. The jury acquitted Carline of the assault upon John Greenawalt, but convicted him as to Mrs. Greenawalt. As to the third case, a verdict of not guilty was rendered, each party to pay one-half the costs.

The Monumental Fair—Resolutions of Thanks.

At a meeting of the pupils of the Soldiers' Orphans' School Home at Phillipsburg, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, In the providence of God we have been left orphans by the late war, yet the demonstration in connection with the late Fair showed us we are not left friendless, and as it would be ungrateful not to acknowledge these kind acts, therefore,

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt thanks to Mrs. McKee and the other members of the Committee of the Monumental Fair, for the invitation extended to visit the Fair, and the many kindnesses shown us while there; and to Mrs. Dilm, Vankirk, Watt and others for a most excellent dinner; and to Messrs Wm. Thaw and Lewis Peterson, Sr., for very many favors and kind words while there; and to Gen. Cass and the Assistant President of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway for an excursion ticket to the Fair and return; and to the conductors, Messrs. Scott and Skinner, for their thoughtful arrangements and kind attentions.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in a daily paper in Pittsburgh.

MARY McCASLIN, President.

LIZZIE ROLLINS, Secretary.

ALMOST A COLLISION—WOMAN HURT.—Yesterday morning about eight o'clock, a collision almost occurred between a passenger car and a freight train on Federal street, Allegheny. The freight train was going at the usual rate, and with the usual warnings, the flagman being in the middle of the street. The driver of the passenger car for some reason saw fit to hurry his team in order to pass, instead of stopping on the north side of the road. The passengers seeing the danger, some of them attempted to escape by jumping out. One man and two women jumped out, and as the horses were on a gallop, all fell. The woman who jumped out of the rear of the car was badly hurt, and taken into the station house. The other two persons barely succeeded in scrambling off the tracks, when the long freight train passed, nearly touching them.

INSTITUTION OF A NEW MASONIC LODGE.—McCandless Lodge of Ancient York Masons was instituted yesterday at Lawrenceville, the following officers of the Grand Lodge officiating: Richard L. Vaux, Deputy Grand Master, R. A. Lamberton, Senior Grand Warden, and John Thompson, Grand Secretary. Judge McCandless was also present and took part in the ceremonies.

CONVENTION OF SCHOOL DIRECTORS.

Election of City School Superintendent --The Matter Discussed and Defeated --Interesting Proceedings.

An adjourned meeting of the Directors of the Public Schools of this city was held last evening in the Hall of the Third and Tenth wards School House, for the purpose of electing a Superintendent of the City Schools, under the act of Assembly passed at the last session of the Legislature.

The Convention was organized by calling upon Thomas Ewing, Esq., to preside, and choosing Messrs. John A. Sergeant and Wm. B. Hunter, Esqs., Secretaries.

The roll was then called, when it was ascertained that fifty-two of the sixty School Directors were present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The Chairman stated that the object of the meeting was to elect a City Superintendent, fix his salary and designate his duties.

Mr. Hartman moved that the matter of electing a City Superintendent be postponed until the third Tuesday in January.

Mr. Hunter stated that at the last meeting it had been settled that a City Superintendent should be elected at this time, and he was unable to see how it could be avoided, since the law had been approved by the Board.

Mr. J. H. Miller said as there appeared to be an uncertainty in the minds of many present, as to the expediency of postponing the election, he would like to hear a general expression of opinion on the subject.

Mr. Hartman remarked that very few of the citizens had given the matter any attention. The school tax was already very large and he thought it would be better to let the subject lie over for the present, and until the residents of the various wards had an opportunity to instruct the local Board how to vote.

Mr. James Robb was in favor of the proposed postponement of the election. The school tax in his ward was very high, and he did not believe the people desired to add to them by creating a new salaried officer.

Mr. J. B. Nobbs said that when any measure was proposed tending to increase the efficiency of our schools, the cry of "More Tax" was immediately raised. The building occupied by the High School is in a miserable condition, and is a disgrace to the city.

Mr. Nobbs was called to order, and upon a motion being made to permit him to continue his remarks, Mr. Hartman said he would vote affirmatively if the subject of the High School would be open for a free discussion. He desired that the subject should be ventilated and no better opportunity for doing so could be afforded.

Mr. Nobbs remarked that he had nothing further to say, and the motion was withdrawn.

Dr. McCook said it became the Convention to act intelligently as citizens upon the matter under discussion. It was known to all present that the Central Board had already appropriated all the moneys in their control, and if it was decided to give the proposed new Superintendent an increase of salary over the $1,000 allowed by the act, it would be necessary to borrow the balance. He was not in favor of incurring the debt, and would vote against creating the office.

The Chairman stated that the question of accepting the law creating a City Superintendent, had been settled affirmatively at the last meeting, and under the provisions of the law it would be necessary to elect one. He had consulted with a gentleman well versed in law in regard to the matter, and he had so given his decision. Under these circumstances, he doubted very much his right, as Chairman of the meeting, to entertain the question providing for a postponement of the election.

Mr. Robb believed the matter could be postponed, as the Directors had complete control of it.

The Chairmain was of opinion that in case the meeting declined to elect a City Superintendent, the State Superintendent would have authority to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Max. K. Moorhead said he attended the meeting with the intention of voting for a postponement of the election, but seeing that gentlemen who had heretofore been favorable to creating the new office were now opposed to it, he was satisfied that some undercurrent was at work, and would vote against postponement.

The yeas and nays on Mr. Hartman's motion was called, resulting, yeas 26, nays 26. The motion was declared lost.

Dr. McCook desired to enter his protest against the reception of votes from members who were not, under the school law, entitled to vote.

Mr. Herdman moved that no persons present, not citizens of the wards they represented, be permitted to vote.

Mr. Sergeant stated that after the roll had been called the matter of membership, in his opinion, had been settled. He did not think the Convention should interfere with any local Boards, so long as the members thereof were satisfied.

Mr. Hamilton said he was a colleague of Mr. Thomas, and as the law plainly said he should not vote, the duty of the Convention was plain.

The Chairman stated that he would be compelled to rule the motion out of order. The objection should have been made when the roll was called.

Mr. J. B. Nobbs moved that the Convention proceed to elect a City Superintendent.

Dr. McCook moved that the Secretary of the Convention be instructed to notify the State Superintendent that Mr. Lowe, of the Seventh ward, and Mr. Thomas, of the Eighth ward, who had taken part in the proceedings of the meeting, were not members of the Boards they represented, they having removed from those districts.

The Chairman decided the motion out of order.

Mr. Quinn moved as an amendment to Mr. Nobbs's motion that the names of Messrs. Thomas and Lowe be stricken from the roll.

The Chairman decided the matter out of order, on the ground that it was entirely foreign to the question.

Mr. Quinn then appealed from the decision of the chair.

Mr. Nobbs (Mr. Hunter in the chair) said that when Mr. Lowe was elected a member of the School Board of the Seventh ward he was a resident of the ward, and although he had removed from the district since that time, there was nothing in the School Law to invalidate his claims.

Mr. Sims—I don't believe the gentleman ever read the law.

Mr. Hartman read an extract from a letter from the State Superintendent, giving it as his opinion that persons elected School Directors should reside in the School District, and upon ceasing to be residents of that district, their offices were vacated.

Mr. Robb stated that when he had spoken before, he was not aware that the law was so pointed. He sustained the appeal, however, and believed that the Convention should decide who was entitled to vote.

Mr. Quinn then withdrew his appeal from the decision of the Chair, and the question came up on Mr. Nobb's motion to proceed to an election for City Superintendent.

The yeas and nays were called, the vote resulting:

Yeas—Messrs. Getty, Hunter, Hagan, Phillips, Geo. Wilson, Ewing, Crawford, J. M. Taylor, Kaye, Sutton, Moorhead, Mays, Moore, Gribbon, Neely, Sergeant, Thomas, Nobbs, Snyder, Focer, Rayburn, Reed and Welsh—23.

Nays—Messrs. Woods, John Wilson, Herdman, Strain, Dignam, McGee, Quinn, Rafferty, Long, Tomlinson, Shaw, Speer, Whitmore, Scott, Hartman, Freeman, Floyd, Wallace, Robb, Hamilton, Stetler, Duff, Miller, McCook, Simpson, Sims, and Steinmeyer—27.

The Chairman announced that the motion had been lost.

Dr. McCook then moved that the Convention adjourn until the first Tuesday in May, 1869, the time for holding the triennial meeting.

Mr. Robb moved as an amendment that the Convention adjourn to meet on the third Tuesday in January, 1868.

Mr. Hunter offered as a substitute that the Convention adjourn sine die. The question was called on the substitute, when it was adopted unanimously.

The Convention then adjourned.

A New Confidence Game—The Swindler in Durance Vile.

A young man named Joseph Purcell appeared yesterday before Alderman Donaldson, and made information against one John O'Neil for fraud and false pretenses. The case is a peculiar one, and we give the circumstances as alleged by Mr. Purcell: About twelve years ago a brother of the deponent named James Purcell, left the home of his parents at Akron, Erie county, New York, very suddenly. Nothing was ever heard of him, and a few months ago, his mother, becoming almost distracted about him, put an advertisement in several newspapers, stating where she lived, in hope that if alive, it perchance might meet his eye, or he might hear about it. On the fifth day of the present month Mrs. Purcell received a letter, dated at Pittsburgh, and signed "James Purcell," stating that he had seen the advertisement in the newspaper, and that not knowing where she lived, was the reason why he had not returned home. He seemed very penitent, and the letter was written in the most affectionate manner, calculated to excite no suspicion. The letter concluded by saying that he was very much in debt, that he owed sundry bills, among others for four weeks boarding to Rev. Father Hickey, that he desired to return home and be with his loving sisters and brothers once more, but that he had no money to do so, and that if she would be kind enough to remit him enough money to defray his bills and expenses, she would soon find him once more under the old family roof. He told her to direct his letters to Soho Postoffice. The mother never doubted that the writer was other than her long lost boy, but Joseph, having business in this part of the country, concluded to come to Pittsburgh and take back with him his brother. Arriving here on Wednesday he at once proceeded to the residence of Father Hickey, when he was informed by that divine that he knew nothing of the person described by him. This created suspicion on the part of Joseph, that all was not right, and he determined to sift the matter. He proceeded to the Soho Postoffice, and in order to carry out his plans, placed a letter in the office directed to "James Purcell." He waited at the office, and in a short time afterwards the letter was called for. The applicant was stopped by Joseph, and in answer to an inquiry said his name was James Purcell. At a glance Joseph saw that he was not the long lost brother whom he represented himself to be, and upon inquiry from persons residing in that vicinity, ascertained that his name was John O'Neil. Being satisfied that O'Neil wrote the letter for the purpose of extorting money, he accordingly appeared before Alderman Donaldson yesterday, as stated, and made information against him. O'Neil was arrested and committed to jail, in default of bail, for a hearing this morning at ten o'clock.

The Committee submitted a resolution authorizing the payment of a bill of Moses Trimble for cleaning the Diamond Weigh House.

The report was accepted and the resolution adopted.

A MINORITY REPORT.

Mr. McNeill, of the Water Committee, submitted the following as a minority report in opposition to the action of the Committee in not letting the excavation for and laying of water pipe as instructed by Councils:

The undersigned is satisfied that good and responsible bids were made for said work, and certainly at much lower rates than the city will be able to do it by hiring men by the day. I would therefore ask Councils to so instruct the Committee that they be required to let the work by contract. H. McNEILL.

Mr. Megraw moved that the report be accepted and adopted.

Mr. Hanna moved that the report be laid on the table. The motion was lost by a tie vote—nine yeas to nine nays.

The yeas and nays were then called on the adoption of the report, with the following result:

Yeas—Brahm, Drennan, Faulbauber, Letzgus, Megrew, McNeill, Reiter, Voegtly and Zoller—9. Nays—Cutler, Dunham, Dill, Hanna, Ingham, Kirkpatrick, McDonald, Windsor, and President Riddle—9.

THE GLORIOUS NATIONAL ANNIVERSARY.—The great Fourth of July Festival being gotten up in this city, and to come off at Union Park, is creating considerable of a sensation, and promises to be one of the grandest exhibitions of the kind ever yet witnessed here. The novel feature of a marriage in a balloon, is creating considerable excitement, and the manager yesterday received three more applications from parties in this city, proposing to have the connubial knot tied in the balloon. We learn that arrangements are being made for similar exhibitions on the Fourth of July, in Washington, Beaver, Brownsville, Steubenville, and Canton, Ohio.

Public Amusements.

MASONIC HALL.—The entertainment of Mr. Kennedy, the Scottish vocalist, at Masonic Hall last evening, was attended by a fashionable audience, and gave the greatest satisfaction. Mr. Kennedy's programme included humorous, pathetic and descriptive songs, which he interspersed with anecdotes and illustrations of Scottish manners and customs of the olden time. To-night, Mr. Kennedy gives his last entertainment, when the programme will be made up principally of the songs of Robert Burns. This concert should call out every Scotsman and descendant of Scotsmen in the city.

NEW OPERA HOUSE.—The Overington Combination Company will give a grand matinee at the Opera House on Saturday afternoon, and will also give an entertainment in the evening. The beautiful Irish drama of the "Colleen Bawn" will be performed at the matinee, and will have an excellent cast, including Miss Florence Lafond, Louise Sylvester, Mrs. Sylvester, Messrs. Crossen, Ryder, Cook, Hancker, Ward and others. The people are already anxious for the reopening of the theaters, as it has been an unusual thing with our managers to close before the Fourth of July, and the public must have some respectable place of entertainment. With such an interesting and attractive play as the "Colleen Bawn," the Opera House should be filled Saturday afternoon. The bill for the evening will be announced in due season.

ANNUAL EXAMINATION.—The Annual Examination at St. Michael's Catholic Seminary, on the Monongahela river, will take place on Tuesday next, the 18th inst. A train will leave the Connellsville depot, foot of Grant street, at 7 o'clock A. M., and 11 A. M.

This is one of the most valuable pieces of property in the city and affords an exceedingly rare chance for capitalists. The ground will be sold in five separate lots; four lots each twenty-one feet front on Wylie street, extending back sixty-five feet, and one lot twenty-one feet front and seventy-five feet deep. At the same time there will be sold a vacant lot on the south side of Wylie street, at a distance of twenty-one feet from the corner of High and Wylie streets, containing twenty-one feet (more or less) front and extending back thirty-five feet. The buildings covering the first-mentioned lots (formerly First German Evangelical Lutheran Church and Parsonage) will be disposed of separately. A National Medicine.

One can hardly pick up a newspaper or turn a street corner now-a-days that he does not find, staring him in the face, the announcement that Prof. so-and-so has just discovered a medicine which is a panacea for all the evils that flesh is, or may be heir to. These "wonderful" discoveries usually have an existence of a few months, then disappear from public notice. The reason of their sudden extinguishment is apparent. They were humbugs. At the outset all medicinal preparations have an equal chance for success, as all are equally unknown; but the chaff is soon winnowed from the grain by the practical test which an unprejudiced public applies to all things. There are but few preparations of medicine which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any length of time. One of the few which we have now in mind, and which has been a long time familiar to nearly every household in the land, is the celebrated HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Their almost universal sale and use, and their emphatic endorsement from all portions of the country, compel the admission that they must be a specific for the ailments for which they are recommended. Letters before us attest their efficacy in diseases of the throat, bowels and liver. In that truly terrible complaint, dyspepsia, they are regarded as a sure cure. In Pittsburgh, where these Bitters are manufactured, their sale for home use is immense. This fact alone speaks volumes in their favor.—Extracts from the Muscatine Courier, Iowa, February 7, 1867.

THURSDAY EVENING, June 13, 1867.

No relief from the excessive closeness in the discount market was felt to-day, but, on the contrary, if any change was noticed it was towards greater stringency. The very best customer paper cannot be accommodated beyond a very stinted line, and borrowers who have not established a credid at bank, although their paper may be par excellent, cannot expect the least favors. The deposits in most of the banks are reported as heavily run down, and the drain upon private bankers is most exhaustive. Rates on the outside market were higher than they have been the last half year. Although the present condition of the local money market is not pleasant for borrowers, yet the banks must pursue a rigid policy, as marked down by the authorities at Washington, which may be the wisest course in the end, inasmuch as it secures safety from speculative ventures, or the indulgence in any extravagant movements.

—Local stocks are being bought out by holders anxious to realize. Prices are, however, firm, and there must be considerable concession made on the part of sellers if they expect to find purchasers. Citizens' Bank stock was offered to-day at 63, but in most cases only 60 was bid. The Fourth National is offered at 102, which is really low for this stock, but it is wanted in most instances at par.

—Governments continue very active. The purchases of seven-thirties by the Treasury, and the redemption of compound notes have the effect of creating a demand for bonds. The probability is that a large amount of both these classes of securities will be taken off the market before any new bonds are issued from the Treasury, and the anticipation of this movement naturally strengthens the bond market. There has been quite an active demand for five-twenties of 1862 and of 1865, both old and new from foreign bankers; it is questionable, however, whether the new sixty-fives are intended for shipment. Sixty-fives of both old and new issues are one-eighth better. Ten-forties are active, and advanced to 100¼. McVay & Co.'s report shows the following changes:

U. S. 6s 1881	111¼
U. S. 5-20s, 1862	110

—The New York Times of yesterday reports the Gold Room firm in price, but rather free of speculative excitement. The buyers for a further rise are apparently confident, though unwilling to attempt a rapid advance. The short interest in the room is not large. The Treasury is not a seller to any considerable amount.

—In New York, according to the Tribune, there are more "To Lets" to be seen in business streets than have been noticed for several years, and prices of real estate, except for special locations, favor the buyer. The demand for property is mainly confined to "medium," and fancy descriptions cannot be placed except at a concession. The high prices paid for building materials have given way, and quotations tend downward. The variation since May 21 are shown by the following table:

PRICES OF BUILDING MATERIAL.

	May 21.	June 10.	Decline.
Brick, common ₱ M	$13 00@13 50	$8 50@10 00	$4 50@3 50

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, THURSDAY EVENING, June 13, 1867.

The market continues very quiet, and without any very notable change since our last. Prices, however, have a downward tendency. Buyers only take hold according to the extent of actual requirements. Holders are generally making concessions in order to induce sales. Flour may be noted as active at the decline already reported. Corn is very dull of sale. Potatoes are rapidly declining.

Under the decline in prices the receipts are very contracted. Since our last the imports per rail and river were as follows: Flour 170 bbls; cheese 39 boxes; corn 604 sacks; rye 63 sacks; oats 1,590 sacks.

We quote as follows, which are the wholesale store prices, unless otherwise stated:

APPLES—Choice Apples would readily command $10@11 ₱ barrel, but there are none in market.

BEANS—But a slim supply in the market. Choice small white beans are in demand at $3 ₱ bushel.

BUTTER—The receipts are generally in bad order and not as a general thing saleable from store at over 10@14c ₱ lb. Packages in good order may be quoted at 15@18c ₱ lb.

BROOMS—A sale of 50 dozen No. 2 Western was made at $2 25 ₱ dozen.

CHEESE—Market dull. Western Reserve may be quoted at 14@16c, and Goshen at 20c ₱ lb. 10 boxes of Hamburg sold at 15c ₱ lb.

DRIED FRUITS—Market very dull. Apples are not quotable at over 6@8c ₱ lb., and Peaches at 10@11c ₱ lb., as to quality.

EGGS—Scarce and in demand at 22@23c ₱ dozen.

FLOUR—Market active at the decline. We note some heavy sales by one of our prominent dealers, to-day, viz: 200 bbls. Desplaines at $11 75; 200 Carroll Mills $11 75; 100 Crescent City $11 00@11 50; 100 Jenkins's Eureka at $13 75, and 100 Emerald at $11 50@11 75 ₱ bbl. We have also a reported sale of 100 bbls. choice spring at $12 00@12 25 ₱ bbl.

GRAIN—No reported sales of wheat. The Grain Market is generally dull and unsettled. We have reported sales of 300 bushels Rye, in Elevator, at $1 25, and a small lot, from wagon, at $1 20 ₱ bush. 100 bushels of shelled Corn sold from Elevator at 85c; and on the wharf a considerable lot sold, on speculation, at 75c ₱ bushel. Dealers are not inclined to pay over 75c ₱ bushel. There has been no change in Oats, and we quote from first hands at 60@55c ₱ bushel.

HAY—We quote hay dull, at $20@25 ₱ ton.

HIDES—We have the following quotations from a prominent dealer: Green salt hides, all weights, 12½@13c; do do calf, 22@23c; dry flint hides, 23@25c; do do kips, 30@32c; harness, 40@43c; rough leather, 37@38c; oak sole, 42@45c, and hemlock sole, 32@35c ₱ lb.

PROVISIONS—Packers' prices are—for sugar-cured hams, 15@16c; shoulders, 9½@9¾c; sides, 11½c, and lard 12c ₱ lb. in tierces.

LARD OIL—Manufacturers' prices are $1@1 05 for No. 1, and 83@85c for No. 2 ₱ gallon.

POTATOES—Prices are declining; sales of Peach Blows were made from store at $1 25 ₱ bushel; 1 car of Lake Shore to arrive, is reported at $1 30 ₱ bushel.

SALT—We quote Ohio river salt in round lots at $2 40 ₱ bbl. and Pennsylvania salt at river and depot $2 30, and delivered at $2 40 ₱ bbl.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, FRIDAY, June 14, 1867.

Business since our last has presented no new feature. The demand for immediate delivery was small, only one round parcel was required. That was taken to fill a previously made contract, and being of a specified gravity, sold at prices that could not be obtained under other circumstances, and ought not to be taken as a criterion of what the article would bring. The Allegheny river is down to low water mark. There were no river receipts for some days. At Oil City, crude was dull and offered freely, without finding purchasers at $2 20 per barrel. Buyers were very shy. The operations in our market were as follows, principally on long time delivery.

CRUDE—We note sales of 2,000 bbls bulk, August delivery, 7¼c; sales 100 bbls, on the spot, 40 gravity, 6c, the lowest figures noted for some time; sales 4,000 bbls bulk, 40@45 gravity, the purchaser having a contract to fill at 7c. This is above the market. The purchaser had no other alternative. The seller understood how matters stood, and refused to give way. We also note a sale of 5,000 bbls bulk, to be delivered at any time during 1868, buyers option, at 12½c per gallon.

REFINED OIL—Was dull; not wanted. Buyers were absent. Prices were nominal. Bonded standard white was offered for June delivery, Philadelphia, at 22½c, buyers option. Standard white was offered for Philadelphia delivery, at any time between September and December, buyers option, at 26½c per gallon. These are certainly low figures.

NEW YORK.

Crude continues very dull and prices tend downward, says the Commercial List, of Wednesday last, though some holders are firm at previous rates; the sales are only 1,500 bbls, 40@45 gravity, in bulk, at 10@10½c, and 3,000 do 11½c delivered to packages—we quote 4@47 gravity, in bulk, 9½c, and in shipping order 15½c. Refined, in bond, is in very limited demand, but the quantity offering is not large, and prices are unchanged; sales 2,200 bbls S W at 24½@25c; 2,000 do P W 25½@25¾c; 7,000 gallons S W in tin, at 32½@33c; 1,000 bbls S W for June, 25c, B O. Of free, we note sales of 250 bbls S W at 38c.

The receipts since January 1st were 439,518 bbls, against 407,715 bbls same time in 1866. The exports from New York since January 1st were 12,309,583 gallons, and from all other ports 11,547,030 gallons. Total export 23,856,613 gallons, against 21,525,743 gallons same time in 1866, and 4,567,655 gallons same period of 1865.

PHILADELPHIA.

Petroleum continues dull, and prices are unsettled and lower. We quote crude at 15c; refined, in bond, at 21½@22c for pale light straw to white, and 22½@23c for standard white. Free oil sells in small lots at from 35@40c ₱ gallon.

TITUSVILLE, PA.

The market is quiet, which was probably owing to the firmness with which several of the producers held, says the Herald of the 13th inst., and the fact that New York buyers have about as much oil on hand as they can conveniently ship during the next day or two. The inquiry to-day was light and mostly for the New York market. The Cleveland buyers are again in the market, but as yet their operations seem to be mainly confined to the Creek below Petroleum Center. The heavy rain of this morning has raised the water in the Creek and it is now in fair boating condition. On Bull Run offers were made of $2 10 for 47 gr. oil at the wells. On Church Run 45 gr. is held at $2 25 at the wells. On Pioneer Run 47 gr. is held at $2 25 delivered on the cars, or at 5 cents per gallon at the wells. On Cow Run offers were made of $2 10 for 47 gr. at the wells. On Bull Run 47 gr. is held at $2 15 at the wells. On Bennehoff Run 47 gr. is held at $2 20 at the wells. The only sale of importance we have to report to-day is of 500 barrels on Cow Run, by the Montreal Petroleum Company, for the New York market, at $2 10 at the wells. At Oil City a sale of a round lot of 45 gr. is reported for the Cleveland market at $2 40 on the cars.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, THURSDAY, June 13, 1867.

CATTLE—The market was dull notwithstanding the falling off in the receipts. The sales made were at lower prices than the previous week. The market favored buyers who did not seem very anxious to take hold of the advantages offered. They did not seem to view the matter in that light. Eastern buyers were scarce, purchasing very sparingly. Generally speaking the cattle offered this week were inferior to last. The market as a whole was a hard one. The rates may be classed as follows: Best retailing at $8 75@9 25 ₱ cwt; second quality $8 00@8 50; common $4 50@7 00 ₱ cwt. The sales for the past two weeks were as follows:

June 6	417	$5 00@10 38
June 13	398	4 50@ 9 50

At the close of the market 135 head remained unsold.

HOGS—Being out of season, together with the warm weather, produced a dull market. The sales made were in a retail way. Prices of common were governed by the quality. The sales for the past two weeks were:

June 6	78	$7 00@7 50
June 13	70	6 50@7 50

SHEEP—The market was very dull. The sales were unusually small. Holders appeared anxious to realize. Sales were made at a variety of prices for the past two weeks. They were as follows:

June 6	160	$4 00@7 50
June 13	125	4 00@6 50

PENNSLYVANIA CENTRAL STOCK YARDS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, THURSDAY, June 13, 1867.

CATTLE—The market since our last was dull. Prices have further declined. The supply was in excess of the demand. At the close of the market a number of lots remained in the pens unsold. Eastern buyers were not very plenty, and as a general thing dealers were inclined to hold off, waiting for lower figures. A number of lots were forwarded East on drovers' account. The decline since our last was from 60 to 70c per hundred. The sales for the past two weeks were as follows:

June 6th	568	$6 50@10 00
June 13th	329	5 75@9 38

Being a falling off in sales of 239 head. The rates above were the extremes. Most of the sales were made at, say $6 50@7 50 ₱ cwt.

HOGS—The market was dull; the principal portion of the operations being on Eastern account. Prices declined 60c per hundred. Messrs. Gilchrist & Co. purchased 1,092 head; Singer & Imhoff 1,121 head. Below will be found the sales and prices for the past two weeks:

June 6th	4,069	$5 75@7 75
June 13th	4,175	5 75@7 ½

The sales show an increase of 106 head.

SHEEP—The market was well supplied since our last. A good article was in fair demand. As a general thing the offerings were of a better description; the average price was better than last week. The principal sales were for export. The sales for the last two weeks were:

June 6	7,199	$2 25@6 30
June 13	6,753	3 00@6 50

The Commercial says foreign bankers are somewhat disappointed at the cable not having reported a further reduction in the Bank of England rate of discount, and regard the early decline of ½ per cent. as almost certain.

THE RAILWAY MARKET

Opened firmer and rather higher, but subsequently declined and closed weak. The Express says there is a general fear of a railway war between the New York and Pennsylvania roads, and close competition is anticipated on through business with the West. This has induced some large holders to realize, which adds to the weakness of the market. Miscellaneous shares are all lower; and the upward movement in prices is checked for the present. There was a decline in Pacific Mail. Coal stocks quiet and firm.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

CINCINNATI.

At the Brighton Pens the receipts of beef cattle since Thursday last amounted to 185 head, with a light supply and a good demand. The market rules firm at our previous quotations. The quality offered today was fair, and were closed out early in the day. We quote from 4½ to 8c gross for common to choice. One lot extra shipping cattle brought $8 10 ₱ 100 lbs. The receipts of hogs were only 157 head. The demand is moderate, prices remaining about the same: from 5½ to 6½c gross for light to heavy.

At the Great Western Stock Yards the cattle market had a downward tendency and prices are a shade lower. Old cows and scallawags sell at from 4 to 5½c; common, 5½@6¼c; good, 6½@7½c. Shipping cattle in good demand at 8@8½c. At the Union Stock Yards the receipts of cattle for the past week have been liberal. The demand is fair. A decline of ½c has been established in cattle. We quote extra butcher stuff at 7@7½c; fair do at 5½@6½c; inferior grades do at 4½@5½c; extra quality shipping cattle at 8c, and fair do do at 7@7½c.

COVINGTON, KY.

During the fore part of the week, ending Monday evening last, the market for cattle was tolerably brisk, and all that arrived were readily sold, but toward the close prices exhibited a slight downward tendency, and considerable dullness has since prevailed. The receipts since our last report have amounted to 1,172 head, 890 of which were shipped to New York, and nearly all the balance sold here at the following figures, viz: First quality of butcher's stuff, $7 25@7 50 ₱ 100 lbs; second quality do, $6 50@6 75; third quality do, $4 75@5 50. A few extra cattle were sold to butchers at $8@8 25.

Hogs—The arrivals since our last report have amounted to 592 head, 450 of which were sold at $6@6 50 ₱ 100 lbs gross, leaving 142 head still in the pens. The market for several days past has been quite dull, and sales difficult to make. Drovers generally have lost money on hogs during the past week.

WOOL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, THURSDAY EVENING, June 13, 1867.

There has been but few transactions as yet, in the Pittsburgh market. Wool growers are not inclined to accept the prices offered by dealers. The wool merchants here are prepared to pay the full market prices for all grades of clean washed wool in cash. The following are the current prices:

Common fleece	38@40
Tub washed	40@45
½@¾ blood fleece	44@45
¾ blood fleece	45@47
Full blood fleece	47@50

The Boston Bulletin, in speaking of the new clip, says: "There is very little speculation and no anxiety on the part of buyers. It will not be wanted, and hence will not be bought up in a hurry. Manufacturers are not in a condition, financially or commercially, to enter the field as purchasers; and speculators have the recollection of past losses too vividly impressed upon their minds to repeat the errors of the last wool season. From present appearances there will be very little competition among country buyers, at least during the early stages of the season, and the market must evidently open at low rates in order to attract customers—probably at a range of 40@50c ₱ lb, or an average of 20 per cent. below last year's prices. There is no movement as yet to indicate the feeling among growers, though a few straggling lots of new Ohio wool have been consigned to the Eastern markets on grower's account. Very choice lots of fine fleece wool are scarce and tolerably quick of sale at full rates. Medium and three-quarter blood fleeces are plenty and dull. Pulled wools are in good supply and relatively depressed, though there is some demand for substitution for the corresponding grades of fleece. Combing wools are not much inquired for and mostly nominal. Fine foreign wools are scarce and firmer, with no current importations, and considerable lots of Cape have lately changed hands in New York, 1,200 bales being taken by a Boston house on speculation.

WOOL CIRCULAR.

John M. Pendleton in his circular, dated New York, June 13th, 1867, says that the wool market during the past six weeks, has been without animation, with the tendency of prices in favor of the buyer. The chronic inactivity that usually precedes the opening of the new clip has added to the general indisposition of manufacturers to anticipate their wants, and, except for desirable parcels, sales—notwithstanding the very light stock on hand—have been difficult to effect, except at a concession in price. Accounts from the West indicate that shearing has fairly commenced, and the entire clip will soon be ready for market. Manufacturers are not in a position to repeat their error of last year in sending a swarm of buyers into the country, and the bulk of this year's wool will have to be marketed at the East. There is little doubt that the clip will be large and considerably in excess of that of last year, while the demand is not—nor is it likely to be—pressing, at least for some time to come.

The large accumulation of goods in the hands of the commission and importing houses forbids the anticipation of an active demand for new productions, and prevents our woolen mills from purchasing raw material beyond their immediate requirements. A few weeks, however, of healthy trade for woolen goods would put a new phase on the market, and inspire a confidence in the manufacturers to anticipate their wants.

No material advance can be expected beyond present figures, while the general tendency of prices of all commodities is downward. Advices from all parts of the country give promise of a prolific crop of cereals, and from the South we are assured of a fair crop of cotton. Should these promises be realized, the feeling of uncertainty which now pervades the commercial interests of the country would be dispelled, and a confidence in the future relieve the existing depression in trade.

Whether we have an active fall trade for woolens or otherwise depends upon this; and the disproportion now existing between the prices of the staple and the manufactured goods will preclude any advance in the former until it is determined and the excess of goods taken into consumption.

In Foreign Wools trade is even lower than in Domestic. The stock of Cape has been materially reduced, and most of the late importations of Mestiza have been held in bond with a view to re-shipment, unless prices take an upward turn, of which there is no present prospect. Already the foreign markets are depressed under accumulating supplies, caused by the absence of so important a customer as the United States, and the Liverpool quarterly sales, which took place last month, show a decline of from five to ten per cent.

Considerable speculation exists as to the price at which the new clip will be marketed, and by many the figure is placed at 40@50c. It is a noticeable fact that there is no competion among buyers, and in seasons when all signs fail, we can only await the course of events without hazarding an opinion as to the future.

To those who propose handling wool at the West the present year, we again urge the necessity for care and discrimination in purchasing, passing by unsightly, tagged, heavy-stringed and stuffed fleeces. The subject has, within the past year or two, been a prominent one amongst both manufacturers and dealers, and every season the discrimination as to condition and honesty of packing has been more marked. I quote:

Pennsylvania, Virginia and Ohio—Choice Saxony fleece, 65@70c; three-quarters to full blood fleece, 55@60c; common to half blood fleece, 50@55c.

New York State and Michigan—Saxony fleece, 55@60c; three-quarter to full blood fleece, 50@55c; common to half blood fleece, 45@50c.

Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin—Three-quarter to full blood fleece; 52@56c; quarter to half blood fleece, 49@52c; common to quarter blood fleece, 45@50c.

Belle Vernon	Darragh	St. Louis.

THE RIVER AND MATTERS ALONG THE WHARF.—The weather yesterday was decidedly warm. We are closely approaching low water marks, and unless we soon have a rise large size boats will have to withdraw. The Monongahela marks indicate three feet ten inches. The marks at the foot of Wood street exhibit four feet seven inches, which we consider nearer correct than those on the bridge. Glasshouse is about the shoalest place; it will soon wash out and enable boats to load to the water the marks indicate. The Grey Eagle is in port; she will lay over until Saturday. The Bayard left yesterday with all the freight she could carry on the water. She will be followed to-day by the Leni Leoti, which boat leaves at noon. The towboats Tom Farrow, Ella, N. J. Bigley, Wild Cat and S. Roberts arrived since our last. The Belle Vernon and barge left yesterday for St. Louis with all the freight she wanted on the water. The Columbia, for Cincinnati, was among the departures. The Silver Cloud No. 2 is receiving for St. Louis, and will depart on Saturday. The Belle is due this morning from Cincinnati; she returns to that port on Saturday. The far-famed packet Robert Moore leaves at 4 P. M. for Portsmouth and intermediate ports; to persons going that way, now is the time. The officers of the steamer R. Moore will accept our thanks for attentions to this office. Low water boats are in demand. The big boats have had their day; they can afford to rest awhile.

THE Bayard left for Parkersburg with a fair trip.

THE Ingomar is reported as laid up for more water.

THE Wild Duck and barges arrived at Cincinnati on Tuesday en route for Pittsburgh.

THE St. Mary is to be repaired and placed in the Wheeling and Cincinnati trade as a weekly packet.

THE Belle, Capt. Laughrey, left Cincinnati for this port on Tuesday. She will be due here to-day and will return to Cincinnati on Saturday.

THE GREAT REPUBLIC.—A dispatch to Cincinnati says the friends of the Great Republic in New Orleans are well pleased by the dashing time she is making.

THE Kate Putnan, that was aground on Glasshouse, got off and proceeded on her way rejoicing.

THE following tow boats have arrived and are laid up: Ella, N. J. Bigley, Wild Cat, S. Roberts and Tom Farrow.

THE Parkersburg packet Grey Eagle, Captain C. L. Brennan, will resume her trips in the Parkersburg trade on Saturday.

THE Louisville Democrat says: The Richmond and Republic leave New Orleans together on the next trip. Now we'll see "who's which, and how's who?"

CAIRO, June 11, 12 M.—Port list: Glasgow, St. Louis to Pittsburgh, 3 P. M.; Melbrey, Florence to St. Louis, 2 A. M.; Cora S., Louisville to Memphis, 4 A. M.; Clifton, Cincinnati to Memphis, 10 A. M.

THE Leni Leoti, Captain Hamilton, leaves to-day at noon for Parkersburg and intermediate ports. This boat is light draught and will go through without detention. Captain Shepherd will do the honors in the office.

THE fine steamer R. Moore, Capt. Kerr, is announced for Portsmouth this day at 4 P. M. To passengers going that way a fine opportunity is presented. This boat is in charge of careful and attentive officers.

A ST. LOUIS dispatch of the 11th, says: The Great Republic arrived this evening, with a fair trip. There are 20 feet in the channel hence to Cairo. River still falling. The Upper Mississippi is rising rapidly. Rates to New Orleans unchanged.

We learn, by special dispatch, that the Great Republic arrived at St. Louis yesterday afternoon, four days and twenty-one hours out from New Orleans. She leaves St. Louis for New Orleans again Thursday evening, and Cairo on Friday evening.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., June 11, 7 P. M.—River falling slowly, with scant 5 feet in the pass over the falls. Weather cloudy, indicating rain; wind west. The Kenton passed down, through the canal. The St. Marys passed up. The Hercules, with empty barges, passed up. D. M. DRYDEN, Falls Pilot.

A LOUISVILLE dispatch of the 11th says: "The steamer Richmond arrived this afternoon, with disabled larboard engine. She brought two hundred passengers from the lower country, most of whom were Kentuckians, seeking their old Kentucky homes. Except in overflowed districts, crop prospects are excellent for cotton and cereals."

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—The decline in the river continues here and to Cairo, with twenty feet water in the channel. The Upper Mississippi is still rising, and never has been at a better stage at this season of the year. Heavy cargoes arrive every day from the upper rivers. One boat brought, yesterday, 300 tons hemp, tobacco, grain, &c., from the Missouri, and another 400 tons. The small, stern-wheeler Shelton has been sold for $4,000, and goes to a Southern bayou. Eight mountain boats were recently aground on Swan Lake bar.

THE account in the Louisville Courier in reference to the steamer Wild Duck not having sufficient power to manage her barges properly, is incorrect, she being equal in power and speed to any boat of her class navigating the western waters. The accident referred to occurred, not through any fault of the boat or her officers, but for the reason of the obstructions at the head of the canal not being removed by the Louisville city authorities. The officers of the Wild Duck are as competent as any on the Ohio or Mississippi rivers. JOHN H. BISHOP, Engineer.

WEDNESDAY'S St. Louis Democrat has the following: We have the renowned steamer Great Republic with us again. We think it will be difficult to find any one now who will say that this steamer is slow. She has been giving every trip evidence of great speed, and we have reason to believe that she can do still better even than her last trip. A business trip of four days, one hour and twenty minutes to Cairo, and four days twenty-one hours to St. Louis is very well. Cavillers are either silent now, or speak in terms of praise of the Great Republic. Captain Donaldson left the boat at Cairo to go to Pittsburgh on a temporary visit. The boat had a fine trip of people.

COAL RECEIPTS AT LOUISVILLE FOR MAY.—We condense the following from the Democrat: We believe more coal has arrived from the coal regions of Pennsylvania this year than has been known for a number of years. The receipts reach 2,141,000 bushels.

The exports to New Orleans during the same period were 1,650,000 bushels. The Alps left with 240,000 bushels—one of the largest tows of coal that ever went South.

The Boaz, a new and mammoth towboat, lies at Jeffersonville, waiting for a rise, to start with a tow of about 200,000 bushels for New Orleans. The tow is now ready, lying at West Louisville.

The A. J. Baker left for New Orleans on Tuesday with nine barges and four boats containing coal.
